THE FRIENDS OF MILLS AGAINST THE GEORGIAN.

FIGHTING CRISP.

THE SPEAKERSHIP IS INVOLVED. Speaker Reed Anxious to Appoint Crisp in Randall's Place—The Meaning of the Opposition to Him.

WASHINGTON, April 23.-[Special.]-No one has yet been appointed to succeed Mr. Randall on the committee on rules. The delay results from a stubborn but quiet fight being made against Judge Crisp, who is not only the choice of the majority of the democrats, but the man who even Reed says is entitled to the place on account of ability and fitness. Speaker Reed wants to appoint Crisp. He believes such an appointment would meet the approval of the great majority of the democrats.

MILLS IS IN THE WAY.

However, he is embarrassed on account of the fight being made upon him by the old ways and means committee ring, which controlled the last house. Mills wants to be the next speaker. Crisp, however, seems to be the choice of a large majority of democrats. Mills's friends fear Crisp's appointment to the committee on rules will his election as speaker of the next house a certainty. Consequently Mills's friends pushed him upon Reed for the vacancy on the committee on rules.

HOW REED REGARDS IT. Reed, however, positively refused to appoint Mills, replying that he thought Crisp the man for the place, and believed such an appointment would meet with general approval. Mills's friends then turned to Jim Blount as the best man to use in antagonizing Crisp, but soon dropped him. They have now turned to the argument that it would never do to have two southern democrats on the committee; that as Mr. Carlisle is a southern man, the other must be a northener.

BRINGING OUT OTHER OPPOSITION. They have put forward Holman and Springer. Reed hates Springer, and will not have him, consequently they are now pushing Holman.

Anything to defeat Crisp and stop his march of progress to the leadership of the party. But this kind of jealous opposition it is not kelieved will hold. COMING TO CRISP'S SUPPORT.

Other democrats are now coming to the front, and there were many, northern and southern alike, who today told Speaker Reed Crisp was the man they wanted. Reed replied that Crisp was undoubtedly the proper man, but he wanted to please all the democrats in the appointment. He said further that he would like to put Crisp on the appropriations, were t not for the fact that a Georgian was already or that committee.

Notwithstanding this fight on the distingnished Georgian, who has not made a single effort to get the place, it is believed he will be Randall's successor on the committee on rules, and the next speaker of a democrotic house.

THE ANSWER COLONEL OATES MAKES. In his speech before the sonate committee on agriculture yesterday on the sub-treasury bill Dr. McCune denounced Colonel Oates' eppesition to the bill as an illustration of his ignorance and prejudice against the farmer. When approached on the subject today, Colore. Oates said: "I consider it a compliment, both to my intellect and character as a man, to be thus abused by a man of such unsavory reputation as McCune."

The house committee appointed to investigate the alleged fraudulency on the part of the federal court officials in certain southern states leave here tomorrow night. The committee consists of Messrs. Thompson, of Ohio; Ontes, of Alabama, and McCormick, of Pennsylvania. Their first session will be held in Atlanta on Saturday. They are to particularly inquire into the conduct of the commissioners and marshals, the charges having been made that innecent parties were often arrested on trumped up charges, in order that officers and witnesses may get fees. Reports have been made to the department of such frauds upon the government at various places in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and North Carolina, and the committee expects to unearth some bold schemes for obtaining money fraudulently from the government. examine witnesses in Atlanta Saturday, and if necessary, will remain there two or three days. Then they go to Montgomery, and from there to Jackson, Miss. In Alabama, the most glaring schemes of robbery have been reported to the effect that officials and a gang of professional witnesses have formed a trust, so to speak. They make charges against persons for cutting timber from government lands. The charges are not often proven, but still the officials and witnesses get their fees. Colonel Oates says he expects some startling exposures of fraud and corruption.

Mr. Platt presented the conference report on the senate bill to provide a temporary government for the territory of Oklahoma. The reading of the report, which is in the form of a substitute for the entire bill, and covers fifty-two printed pages, occupied over an hour.

The report was agreed to—yeas 50, nays 5 (Messrs. Butler, Cockrell, Pugh, Quay and Yest).

THE SILVER BILL,

As Agreed Upon by the Republicans of Con

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The republicans of the house and senate have again agreed upon a basis for the preparation of a silver bill. The agreement is in harmony with the measure adopted by the senate caucus committee, with one important amendment. The following is adopted by the senate caucus committee, with one important amendment. The following is the full text of the bill as agreed upon:

That the secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to purchase, from time to time, silver bullion to an aggregate amount of 4,500,000 onners of free sliver in each month, at the market price thereof, not exceeding 31 for three hundred and seventy-one and twenty-five one-hundredths grains of pure silver, and to issue in payment for such purchases of silver and gold bullion treasury notes of the United States, to be prepared by the secretary of the treasury, in such form and of such denomination—not dess than $1 nor more than $1,000—as he may prescribe, and a sum sufficient to carry into effect the provisions of this act is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Section 2. That ireasury notes issued in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be redeemable upon demand, in lawful money of the United States, at the treasury of the United States, at the treasury of the United States, at the treasury of the United States, and when so redeemed, may be re 8 ned, but no greater or less amount of such notes shall be outstanding at any time than the cost of the silver bullion then held in the treasury, purchased by such notes; provided that upon demand of the holder of any of the treasury notes herein provided for, the e-retary of the treasury may, in his discretion, and under such regalations as he may prescribe, exchange for such notes.

Section 3. That the secretary of the treasury shall coin such portion of silver bullion purchased under the provisions of the act as may be necessary to provide for the redemption of treasury notes herein provided for, and any gain or seniorage arising from such coinage shall be accounted for and paid into the treasury.

Section 4. That silver bullion purchased under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the requirements of existing law and regulations of the am not of the remained and the remaine and the Fin out of charges or deductions, if any, to be made.

Section 5. That so much of the act of February 28, 1878, entitled "An act to authorize the coimage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character," as requires the monthly purchase and coimage of the same into silver dollars, of not less than $2,000,000 nor more than $4,000,000 of silver bullion, is hereby repealed.

Section 6. That this act shall take effect thirty days from and after its passage.

Senator Teller, of the senate sub-committee, did not agree with his associates in the conclusions they reached, but they were adopted by the full committee of thirteen, with his single dissenting vote. Speaking of the matter later, Senator Teller said he had announced his purpose not to support a bill that gave to the secretary of the treasury the option of redeeming certificates in bullion, and he would not do so. He would, for himself, he said, make an effort to secure free silver coimage. Failing in that, he would accept the next best thing he could get. When the matter came up in the senate for action, he said he would move to make certificates a legal tender.

MR. BLAINE EXPLAINS His Action in Recalling the Pan-American

Excursion Train. WASHINGTON, April 23.-By direction of Secretary Blaine, the following message has been sent to the various committees in the south that had prepared to entertain the delegates to the international American conference:

The secretary of state desires to express his regret that the southern excursion of the international Atterican conference had to be abandoned, but there would have only been one foreign delegate in the party after leaving Richmond, and a great uncertainty whether the others would join later. He thanks you sincerely for the hospitality you extended to them, and the trouble you have taken to arrange for their entertainment, and hope that you appreciate the circumstances and reasons by which he is governed.

A Dance at the White House.

Washington, April 23.—Crash was laid on the floor of the east room this afternoon, and tonight several hundred of the younger element of Washington society danced for three hours or more in the white house. The invitations were issued in the name of Mrs. McKee, the president's daughter, and the acceptances were very general. The east room was handsomely decorated for the occasion with plants and cut flowers. String pieces of the marine band furnished music. The entire lower floor of the white house was thrown lower floor of the white house was thrown open, and many of the guests, not caring to dance, spent the time in promenading, and an elegant collation was served in the dining

Two Boys Drowned.

RALMIGH, N. C., April 23.—[Special.]—At Newberne, Sunday, Henry Conner, fourteen years of age, was sent by his parents across the Neuse river. He was accompanied by David Tooker and Horace Day, aged respectively, fourteen and thirteen years, he having invited them to go with him. The boys were in a sail boat. When near shore the boat was capsized by a squall. Tooker and Day were drowned. Conner clung to the boat, which drifted to shore. He was rescued and taken back to town, in an almost exhausted and insensible condition.

Explosion at Powder Mills.

Marquette, Mich., April 23.—The mill of the Anthony Powder company, at Negaunee, caught fire last evening and blew up shortly after nine o'clock, shocking the whole of Marquette county. Twenty minutes later there was another heavy explosion of powder thrown out by the first. The shock in this city, eleven miles distant, was severe, while in Negaunee store fronts were blown in. No one was killed. The night watchman usually on duty at the mill was let go two days ago. The loss cannot be estimated, but it will be heavy.

They Gave Bond for the Vessel. They Gave Bond for the Vessel.

New York, April 23.—The Imman line people appeared before Collector Erhardt this morning and gave an indemnity bond for the steamship "City of Berlsn," which was threatened with seizure for unloading her cargo without a permit and the vessel sailed this afternoon. The goods will be released to the merchants. The Imman people express deep regret over the affair, and say it was occasioned by a thirty-six hour delay at Liverpool.

IT WAS KELLY'S TURN

TO BE SHOWN UP AS THE LEADING

DEBATE IN THE HOUSE YESTERDAY. Kelly, of Kansas, Waves the Bloody Shirt, but the Democrats Prove That His Assertions Are Falsehoods.

WASHINGTON, April 23 .- [Special.]-The day in the house was given up to the bloody shirt bitterness, and partisanry ruled, and the scene was one of continued excitement. It was interesting in the extreme. Kelly, of Kansas, got the floor. He attempted to rival Billy Chandler in bloody shirtism. He started out with the assertion that the democratic party in the south was a band of ballot box stuffers and political murderers, and then attempted to prove it. He first cited the case of the negro W. T. Finley, in Abbeville, S. C., and read a statement purporting to be from him to the effect that he had been beaten with clubs and sticks by a crowd of men led by Representative Cothran's son, simply because he was an applicant for the postoffice at that place. His leg was broken and he narrowly escaped with his life.

|Upon being closely questioned by Mr. Enloe, of Tennessee, Kelly acknowledged that he wrote the letter himself, but that Finley had made the statements contained therein. This created

Judge Cothran proved this to be false, and showed the negro was not beaten, but was chased by a crowd for making a groundless charge against a highly respectable addy of Abbeville, and that, while running away from the crowd of boys, fell into a railroad cut, and broke his leg. He was not touched by one of the crowd, but when they found he had broken his leg they cared for him, and paid his doc-

Kelly then attacked Mississippi, and then Arkansas in the same strain and read innumerable newspaper extracts.

Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, came back at him and showed him up as very much of a political scoundrel, a rank partisan and wholesale liar. He showed where even republicans had denounced him for his utterances in Fort Smith, Ark., on last Memorial day, in which he at tacked the people of the south just as he did today. Mr. Rogers then cited outrages and murders in Kansas almost without end, where the guilty parties had never been punished. His denunciation of Kelly were simply fearful, but everything he said was true, and Kelly had to grin and silently acknowledge himself the all-around blackguard that he was proven to be.

Other democrats then scored him som heavy blows. During Mr. Rogers's speech he had referred to the stealing of Judge Cate's seat for the purpose of bringing in Feather ston, who had no shadow of right to it. FEATHERSTON'S SLANDERS.

Featherston was pushed to the front by the republicans to reply, and in his speech he practically threw off his lion's skin of alliance independentism and displayed the asinine republican. He denounced the demo crats of Arkansas roundly as politica thieves and murderers. He claimed the presen governor was not elected. He got in, he said, through ballot-box stuffing, combined with the suppression of votes, with the Winchester and through republican fear of assassination He said the condition in Arkansas was a dis grace to the government, and, indeed, he de famed his own state and abused its people roundly. Such a man is a disgrace to the farmers, whom he claims to represent, and to the entire state. John Allen made another good speech, showing up the methods of the postoffice department. Indeed the democrats came out decidedly on top today. E. W. B.

Other Business in the House. WASHINGTON, April 23.—Mr. Harmer, of How County Commissioners Raised The Pennsylvania, presented a memorial of the Manufacturers' club, of Philadelphia, "repre senting many millions of capital invested in American industries, and many thousands of workmen, earning American wages, in favor of prompt action on tariff legislation which shall check the importation of articles pro duced by our own people." Referred.

The house then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Payson, of Illinois, in the chair, on the legislative appropriation bill, the pending question being on the motion of Mr. Dunnell of Minnesota, to strike out the clause pro viding clerks for senators.

The motion to strike out was lost—85 to 87. Pending further discussion, described by Mr. Butterworth as "playful," the committee rose, and the house at 5:35 adjourned.

THE CONFEDERATE RELIQUARY.

The Davis Manslon to Be Set Aside as Hallowed Building.

RICHMOND, Va., April 23 .- [Special.]-The several committees of the city council, to whom were referred the petition of the Ladies Hollywood Memorial association, asking the use of the Jeff. Davis mansion for a museum for confederate relics, had a meeting this afternoon. The ladies were present, and Mr. Joseph Bryan acted as their spokesman. Representatives from the different veteran organizations and the chamber of commerce indorsed the move. The committee unanimously adopted a resolution directing the city engineer, the city attorney and the several committees to look out for a site for a new school house, to take the place of this one to ascertain what a building will cost, and prepare an ordinance giving the ladies the use of the mansion. During the discussion, it was stated that one room in the building will probably be dedicated to each confederate state, to be used for the preservation of their relics. It was also intimated that an effort will be made to have the remains of Mr. Davis brought to Richmond, and buried in the old mansion. ase of the Jeff. Davis mansion for a museum

Three Men Killed.

PITTSBURG, April 23.—A special from Newcastle says: An explosion occurred at Etna nills this morning, three men being killed, six badly injured. Two will probably die. At 6 o'clock, while all the men were working, the flue end of a big boiler collapsed with a deafening roar, and in a moment the place was drenched with scorching steam. Full half an hour was lost before the injured men could be rescued, and the last dead body recovered. Those instantly killed were George Klingensmith and John Welsh. Johnny Murphy could not be found for some time. His body was finally discovered in the fly-wheel pit, where it had been hurled and ground to a pulp. The injured were Barney Regan, terribly scalded; L. Shiffnecker, badly hurt by flying debris and scalded; Joseph Kounds, arm broken and bruised; Johnny Meyers, burned. No cause has yet been given for the break of the boiler. -Three Men Killed.

The Arrest of Some Noted Criminals in Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 23.—[Special.]—
J. N. Sigsby and his son, Will Sigsby, were arrested in Walker county yesterday on a charge of making and passing counterfeit money. The arrest proves to be a more important one than was at first supposed. The Sigsbys, it was learned today, are the last of the once famous Joe Bennefield band of counterfeiters and outlaws, who operated in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama. This band made and passed thousands of dollars of counterfeit money, and killed six detectives who attempted to capture them at different times. Joe Bennefield is now serving a long with in prison, and soveral members of the old gang are dead. The Sigsbys were the last of the band lett. Some time ago Deputy United States Marshal Byers located Sigsby, and, representing himself as a fugitive from justice, obtained board at the old man's house in the mountains. He gained the confidence of the old outlaw, and was soon invited to join in the work of making counterfeit dollars. Sigsby also asked the officer to join in blowing up a house with dynamite for the purpose of robbery. The mould used by the Sigsbys, which were the same used by Bennefield, were captured, together with several hundred dollars of spurious coin. The Arrest of Some Noted Criminals in

A SACK OF SCALPS.

KANSAS CITY, April 23.-A Star's Ulysses, KANSAS CITY, April 23.—A Star's Ulysses, Ky., special says: Investigation into the official acts of the commissioners of this county had proceeded, yesterday, far enough to warrant their arrest and the arrest of others implicated in the county swindle. Today arrests were made of County Clerk George W. Earp, and County Commissioners D. C. Sullivan, C. L. Green and F. M. Lenhart, and J. D. Harber, O. A. Rebirson and George Dough. Earp, and County Commissioners D. C. Sullivan, C. L. Green and F. M. Lenhart, and J. D. Harbor, O. A Robinson and George Dougherty. The clerk and commissioners are charged with the illegal issue of county scrip, given as a bounty to the latter four persons mentioned. The bounty was on scalps of wolves, and the alleged illegal issue of scrip amounted in all to $16,000. In the complaints filed against the accused, it is alleged that one of the conspirators would present a sack of scalps to the county commissioners, who would authorize the issuance of scrip in payment of the bounty. The sack would be placed where another member of the party could conveniently steal it, would in turn present it again to the commissioners. In this way one sack was presented over and over again until bounty had been paid to the amount of $16,000 on a quarter of a million of scalps.

Parties Having Large Buildings in Cou of Construction Pleading With the Workmen to Come to Terms.

CHICAGO, April 23 .- At the headquarters of the carpenters today, it was said the strike bids fair to last a couple of months. Its dura-tion, the strikers think, will depend on the time necessary for the new boss carpenters' association to grow strong enough to employ seven-eighths of the strikers. The new seven-eighths of the strikers. The new organization secured some additions today, and now claims to be able to give work to over 4,000 men. The pressure on the striking carpenters by property owners whose buildings are unfinished, and who are suffering loss by delay, may result in some arrangement by which the carpenters' council will undertake to do the work.

It is said that the strike has already resulted in an increase of rents in the business districts.

It is said that the strike has already resulted in an increase of rents in the business districts. The mammoth office buildings which were to have been completed by June 1st, are now in an indefinite state as to the date of occupancy. Meanwhile, the business men who expected to occupy stores or offices in the new structures, find themselves obliged to remain in their old quarters, and in many instances at a much larger rent. The same condition applies to big apartment houses and their prospective tenants. President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, left for Detroit this morning. He will deliver an address there tonight.

THE BRICK MAKKES.

The situation among the strikers in fifty-odd brickyards, on the north side practically remains unchanged. In five yards the bosses have agreed to comply with the demands of the men, and work was resumed this morning. The trouble appears to be centered on the amount of brick which the bosses require to be made in a day. The men demand that 7,000 bricks, instead of 8,000, as formerly, be recognized as a day's work, and they further ask an increase of fifty cents per day in wages. The men out are hand brick makers, in distinction from machine brick makers, who are paid on a different basis.

New York, April 23.—Bricklayers union, No. 7, of this city, appoints a committee to wait upon the heads of the different city departments and ask the same pay for city brick-layers as outside men receive. The committee called upon the park commission at their meeting today and made a demand for a $4 eight-hour rate for workmen, and $5 pay for inspectors. Their written demand was filed. At an informal conference, after the regular meeting, the delegation said to the park board that they asked union rates as their right. They numbered 5,500 American voters and proposed to enforce their rights at the ballot box at the next election.

Heirs Who Do Not Want the Poor to Share With Them.

Nashville, Tenn., April 23.—[Special.]—A decree in the case of E. A. Gill, vs. A. B. Gill, entered in the chancery court today, sets aside certain provisions in the will of the late William H. Gill, of Texas. The large property of the deceased was located in Texas and Davidson county, Tenn. Mr. Gill left his property by will to his wife and children, but provided that in case the children should die without heirs, the property should be left in trust to Bishop McTyeire, and the Catholic bishops of Nashville, for the benefit of the poor of Nashville and Davidson county. This clause of the will was contested, and in his decision today. Chancellor Allison held that it was null and void under the laws of Texas and Tennessee, and that it was a cloud upon the title of complainants and defendants. With Them.

AFFAIRS IN BRAZIL.

General Fonseca Determined to Maintain Peace.

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 26.—General Deodoro da Fonseca, head of the provisional government, says he is determined to deliver up the government to the legislative congress just as soon as possible, and that internal peace and order shall be maintained, let it cost what it may.

From some words that the general and his ministers have let drop, it would seem that they are convinced of the necessity of removing the capital from the metropolis, or the ing the capital from the metropolis, or the principal commercial city, just as soon as possible. The provisional government have declared that they do not consider it a proper opportunity, nor convenient, for any change in legislation now in force regarding registration or the elective franchise of women.

The Jornal do Commercio (monarchist and opposition) came out in a leader on March 25th against the proposed plebiscitum or voting of the new constitution to be proposed by the provisional government to the people direct.

THE FRENCH WERE DEFEATED In Their Fight With the Natives in Africa.

Parts, April 23 .- Official dispatches confirm the report of a French reverse in Dahomey. One white was killed and twenty native allies one white was killed and twenty native allies were wounded. President Carnot to His People.

PARIS, April 23.—The train on which President Carnot was traveling from Ajaccio, Corsica, was prevented from reaching Bastia on time by the derailment of the train preceding it. At Corte, thirty-one miles southwest of Bastia, President Carnot received the municipal authorities. He made an address in which he congratulated them that the dissensions in Corsica had ended, and that only a French party united by particitism remained. sions in Corsica had enucu, and that only a French party united by patriotism remained. The track was finally cleared, and when the president reached Bastia he was welcomed by an immense crowd. An Italian naval squadron was lying in the harbor which fired a salute in honor of the president.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Futures advanced smartly in the morning hour. It is the unexpected that happens. The bears had another illustration of the wisdom of the notice in the machine shop, "Don't monkey with the buzz-saw while it is in "Don't monkey with the buzz-saw while it is in motion." Silver and Liverpool took an upward turn together, and the rash youths who sold cotton here yesterday were set climbing for it at a reck-less pace. Just before the last call the bulge came to an end, and moderate selling to realize caused a loss of part of the early advance. But there was no more "selling shorts," at least not much. Distant months attracted more attention. Weather reports from the south were fairly favorable. The most conspicuous feature was the fail of needed rains in Texas, from where complaints of drouth have been coming. Cotton on spot was fairly active for home consumption at fair prices.

BECAME A JEWESS.

How a Prominent Baltimore Hebrew Won

a Bride. From the Baltimore Enquirer.

BALTIMORE, April 16 -A marriage in which an orthodox Israelite and a lady who was a strict Methodist were the contracting parties, has just been announced and has caused no end of talk in the Hebrew circles.

The groom is Emanuel Strauss, a son of Leser Strauss, of the wholesale dry goods firm of Strauss Bros., of Hopkins Place, and one of the wealthiest Israelites in Baltimore. The bride was Miss Tillie Williams, a saleslady in one of the retail stores of Strauss Bros., on Baltimore street, and of which Emanuel had charge. Miss Williams, who is a stylish look-ing blonde about 28 years of age, was

DIVORCED FROM HER FIRST HUSBAND, whose name was King, and for five years has been employed by Strauss Bros.

Young Emanuel is about 24 years old and quite impressionable. It was noticed by others in the establishment that he was very at-quite impressionable. It was noticed by others in the establishment that he was very attentive to the pretty saleswoman, but his rigorous adherence to the faith of his fathers precluded the idea of marriage. Just the same, he was making love all the time, and the object of his affection apparently reciprocated in kind. Great, however, as was his desire to make the lady his wife, a marriage was out of the question, unless she changed her faith and embraced Judaism. To this Miss Williams finally consented, and arrangements were at once perfected to BRING HER INTO THE FOLD.

To make assurance doubly sure Emanue wrote a letter to the chief rabbi of London, asking his advice in the matter, and that dignitary gave the desized information.

All this time the parents of the young Strauss were unaware of their son's intentions. The latter feared intervention, and so be concluded to keep them in ignorance until after the marriage.

To become a Jewess, however, is not so easy. A proselyte is not received until she has thoroughly convinced the rabbi by whom she is taught that the change of faith is sincere. For six months the young woman received instructions from Israel Schulman, a well known Hebrew teacher, and when he was satisfied that she was sufficiently informed she made application for admission to the fold.

ACCORDING TO JEWISH LAW she was twice refused, but the third time a "House of Judgment" was convened at the teacher's house, after she had made a confession of the creed she was accepted.

The ceremony of passing through the bath was then proceeded with, after which the lady was conducted to the parlor, where the groom, provided with the necessary license, was in waiting, and, in the presence of ten learned men of the Hebrew faith, the couple were united by Rev. Simon I. Finkelstein, of the Biker Cholim Synagogue. Mr. Strauss then took his bride to the home of her sister. Mrs. McCormick, and left her there until he had prepared for their departure. Mrs. McCormick, ike the Strauss family knew nothing of the ma couple started off on a bridal tour.

SO STRICT IS THE GROOM
that, in view of the fact that it was Passover week, he provided himself with sufficient unleavened bread to last until the journey's end was reached. They left for Chicago without making the marriage known to their friends; nor did it become public until yesterday. The husband's parents refused to be reconciled, and are now-mourning their son as dead. Young Strauss is said to have money in his own right, and in case his father declines to take him back, he will start a business on his own account in one of the western towns.

A KENTUCKY VENDETTA.

Graphic History of the Howard-Turner War-

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean. Wicks Howard and Bob Turner had been drink-ing moonshine whisky in a doggery in the village of Harlan, which is the county seat of Harlan, in the state of Kentucky. Turner became drunk, then sleepy; and he slept. While he was sleeping a fellow named Little struck a match and set his hair on fig. Turner wake and demanded to know. a fellow named Little struck a match and set his hair on fire. Turner woke and demanded to know who was burning him before his appointed time. Little said that Wicks Howard had applied the match. This was nearly ten years ago. Turner

Turner was killed. Howard was tried, and ac

mater. This was hearly ten years ago. Introc and Howard fought, with pistols of course, and Turner was killed. Howard was tried, and according to the custom of the country, acquitted. Then, it now being 1882, Turner's surviving brother sought to kill Wicks Howard. Both Turner the second, whose name was Will, and Howard were wounded in this second duel, which grew out of the joke of a drunken man. Will Turner fed to Texas, but soon returned, then Turner the third, whose name was George, made proclamation that "Buildog Will" was on his native heath again, and defied the clan of Howards to do battle with the clan of Turners. The battle was fought, and Buildog Will was slain. Twenty Turners and twenty Howards took part in this third fight, which had occasion in a drunkard's jest. Wilson Howard was indicted for the murder of Will Turner. Wilson (commonly "Wils") Howard was not kith or kin to Wicks Howard; he just fought against the Turners because he did not like them; one of them had whipped him when he was a boy. "Wils" also escaped justice, according to the custom of the country. After this "Wicks" Howard drops out of the roster of fighters, and "Wils" becomes leader of the Howards, though alien to the family. Wicks, however, had killed Turner, the fourth, whose name was Robert, on March'th, 1882. The Howard defied the law; Sheriff King tried to arrest the leaders of the clan, but in vain. While "Wils" Howard was on bail for the killing of Will Turner, he shot at George Turner, who returned the fire, but neither was hurt. In July, 1886, five years after the perpetration of the Turners; he had come to Harlan to pass an examination for the place of school teacher. His crime was that he boarded with some of the Turner tribe. The same day "Wils" shot and wounded Charles B. Turner, he ran amuck, shooting at women and children, and fiel beyond the stream of Clear Fork. This was on a Monday. On Tuesday he shot and killed Alexander Bailey, who was a friend of the Turners. The name field to Missouri.

Will Jennings was with "Wils" Howard at the killing of Baily; he has been arrested, and the whole clan Howard, with its numerous allies in whole clan Howard, with its numerous allies in Harian county, is in arms to overawe the jury impaneled to try him, and to rescue him if convicted. Three regiments of the state troops of Kentucky have been called on to send parts of their forces to suppress the clan Howard. Six of the state troops have been shot by the Howards; no Howard has been shot by the Howards; no Howard has been shot by the state troops. All this in Kentucky in the year of our Lord 1890.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 23.—[Special.]—The governor today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Green Brown, a negro, convicted of the murder of John Hood, Sr., father of the sheriff of Chester county, a member of a prominent family in that county. It was shown that the negro believed Hood to be a man named Hooper, who had been paying improper attentions to his wife. Mr. Hood was shot at night, while passing near Brown's house. The sheriff prevented Brown's being lynched, but strongly opposed a commutation.

HOLDING THEIR STATE CONVENTION

he Organization of the First Association in the State Sketched-The Progress of the Church Since.

WASHINGTON, Ga., April 23 .- [Special.]-This venerable body that opens its session to-morrow in Washington was organized in 1822 in the town of Powellton. At that time the Baptists of Georgia num-bered 264 churches, 115 preachers and 18,108 members, white and black. Now their memership embraces 123 district associa 2.154 ordained ministers, 3.256 churches, 14.114 baptisms during the last year, with a total membership of 308,428. Sunday-schools 1,708

At their organization the Baptists had no lenominational colleges, male nor female, no religious newspaper, and were doing some thing, but not a great deal, for missions and

Their church property, as reported in the the last Baptist Year Book, is estimated at $1,967,681; salaries of ministers in 1889, $119,192.56; contributions to missions last year, $45,671.82. It will appear from these figures that the Baptist denomination is th largest in Georgia.

THE OLDEST ASSOCIATION. The Georgia association, of which the Washington church is a member, is the oldest and largest one in the state, and is justly styled the mother of all the other assoiations, and the mother of the state conver tion. It was organized in 1784, five churches Abilene, Fishing Creek, Greenwood and Bots ford. Likely 500 members represented th entire organized force of Georgia Baptists at that time. During this 106 years no denomination has made greater advancement among us than the Baptists.

THE MEETING TO BE LARGELY ATTENDED. The meeting will be very largely attended, at Washington, one of the loveliest towns in Georgia, is very accessible, and was the home of the great Jesse Mercer, who is regarded as the father of Georgia Baptists, and the founder of Mercer university, which bears his name The hospitality of the good people of Wilkes county and Washington is proverbial, and most ample arrangements have been made for all who go.

LAST YEAR'S WORK. At Marietta, a year ago, a most gratifying exhibit was made of the mission enterprises of the Baptists, $45,671.82 having been contributed and divided among state, home and foreign missions. Already, Dr. DeVotie, the nission secretary, has reported as cash in hand $54,054,73, with expectations that these figures will grow to $60,000 by the end of this week; this sixty thousand, Dr. DeVotie has been toiling for and asking for for the last year. For thirteen years he has been the successful agent of this work, and though in his seventyseventh year, has developed the beneficiaries of Georgia Baptists in a most gratifying manner, reporting better contributions and more work done from year to year.

Mercer university, the great pet of the Georgia Baptists, has gone on doing moderately well for a number of years.

Last year reports of financial agents and trustees were reasonably satisfactory. This school is now on a mighty boom. In July last Rev. G. A. Nunnally, D. D., was called to the presidency, which he accepted and has filled to the satisfaction and gratification of the most sanguine and fastidiis perhaps the busiest man in Georgia, and the rewards of ceaseless activity are evident on every hand. More than two hundred students bers more than eighty. The president in addi-tion to conducting an immense correspondence, teaching in his own department and having a general oversight of everything, has visited ainety of the one hundred and thirty-seven counties of Georgia, canvassing for the school and now it is announced that no more pupils can be accommodated till enlarged quarters are built, which is now being done. One hun dred and twenty-seven new pupils have been received since Dr. N. took charge. ters from two hundred young men have been received, inquiring after terms, admission, etc. Dr. Nunnally is a native of Walton county,

OLD PREACHERS' FUND.

This branch of state work was organized a year ago, and will claim its share of time and discussion. The object is to provide a fund to be permanently invested, the interest of which shall go to the support of worn-out Baptist ministers and their families. The move is a popular one, and Dr. De Votie has found no other branch of his work more readily contributed to by the people.

THE WOMAN'S MISSION WORK.

The woman's mission work, which has been organized for a score of years, will have a place in the convention. The ladies will hold a separate meeting and hear reports of their work and discuss its future. Mrs. Stainback Wilson is secretary and manager of this efficient department of work. The ladies do not sit as delegates in the convention, but hold their meetings separate. They have chosen Rev. William Henry Strickland to represent their society in the body. Their programme for the week will be as follows:

TAXING SLEEPING CARS.

udge Jackson Declares the Tax to be Un-Judge Jackson Declares the Tax to be unconstitutional.

Nashville, Tenn., April 23.- [Special.]—
The state privilege tax, for 1887, 1888, 1889 and 1890, was taken up before Judge Jackson this morning. Runnells & Burry, general attorneys for the company, and Marks & Marks represent the Pullman company, and Mesars. Champion, Head & Brown and W. D. Covington the state. Nearly the whole day was spent in argument. Late this afternoon Judge Jackson decided the case in favor of the Pullman Car company. He said that the act as passed taxing sleeping car companies $3,000 was very clearly a subterfuge to tax the two cars doing business exclusively within the state, and was unconstitutional, because the tax was exorbitant, and did not apply to railroads and individuals running sleeping cars.

This is the third time acts taxing sleeping running sleeping cars.

This is the third time acts taxing sleeping cars run in Tennessee have been declared un-constitutional. In 1877 every sleeping car doing business within the state was taxed $50. The supreme court of the United States de-cided this act unconstitutional, because it was The supreme court of the United States decided this act unconstitutional, because it was an interference with interstate commerce. Again in 1881 a tax of $150 was levied on every car doing business in the state. This was declared unconstitutional on the same ground. In 1887 a tax of $500 on each car doing business exclusively within the state was passed. This referred to only two cars, and in 1889 a tax of $3,000 on sleeping car companies was levied. It is both the latter acts that were declared unconstitutional today.

Rev. Sam Jones to Visit Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., April 23.—[Special.]—
The great Sam Jones revival meetings were commenced here tonight with union services in the mammoth tabernacle erected especially for the occasion. Services were suspended at the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, and all the pastors co-operated in the opening services tonight. The sermon was preached by Rev. R. C. Reed, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and the congregation numbered at the lowest estimation thirty-five hundred. These union services will be kept up nightly until Thursday of this week, when Rev. Sam Jones will arrive and preach three times a day for eight or ten days. Great interest is already manifested in the meetings throughout this entire section, and thousands of people will attend the meetings. Rev. A Big Draft Received.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 23.—[Special.]—A draft was received here yesterday for $125,000, the balance of the purchase money $125,000, the balance of the purchase money for the Union Cotton Press and Wharf company property, which was recently purchased by McDonald & Gallagher, of New York. The amount of purchase being $150,000. This insures the building of a belt line railroad connecting with all the roads entering Charleston, and extending from the city limits along the east water front to the battery. The construction of the road will enable the railroads to deliver and receive freights at every wharf on Ashley river.

The Exchange Will Start Up Again. The Exchange will start up Again.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 23.—[Special.]—
The Merchants' and Traders' Produce exchange, which failed last week, will reopen soon if satisfactory arrangements can be made to compromise with the creditors. The firm lost all the capital stock, and $400,000 profits, but are willing to raise more and try it again.

IRON IN MARION.

WHICH IS EXPECTED TO YIELD

The Analysis of the Ore Discovered-Item of Building and Increase of Values From the Various Towns of the State.

BUENA VISTA, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A find of iron ore which promises to yield mammoth profits to the controllers has just been made public to our citizens.

Colonel J. H. Lowe, who lives in Buena Vista, owns a tract of 800 acres in Stewart county right on the dividing ridge between the Chattahoochee and Flint rivers, which has a fine deposit of iron ore on the surface, and from the railroad cuts of the Columbus Southern able depth. Also from large gullies in several parts of the track. A sample of the iron ore has been sent to an Atlanta chemist, and his ad it is shown to extend to a consider analysis shows it to contain about sixty per cent of metallic ore, five per cent of silica, thirty-two per cent phosphorous.

This tract is only four miles north of Richland, the point where the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery, and Columbus Southern railroads cross, elegantly situated for development. The tract of 800 acres is controlled by Colonels J. H. and J. M. Lowe, who will immediately organize a stock company, and take steps to make this valuable property pan out. REAL ESTATE DEALINGS.

Vista dirt is fast appreciating in value. Real estate changes which indicate no ratile. Reas estate than small towns in Georgia are pleased to term it, but trades that show solid confidence and appreciation from outsiders. Among the many transfers in real estate which have been made in the last few days may be mentioned the sale of fifteen acres of suburban property at a profit, within two weeks, of $2,100 net, to a syndicate of Co lumbus gentlemen, composed of Major Wood, Colonel Duncan, and others. This property was bought just two weeks before at $800, laid off into streets and platted, and sold with the results mentioned above, the Columbus syndicate being the takers of the whole tract.

Fort Valley to the Front.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., April 23.-[Special.]-Everyone here seems bent on bringing Fort Valley to the front. The Investment and Improvement company has been cnartered, organized and officered with the best business men in the town, with Mr. F. C. Houser as president, and the stock is being taken and paid up a great deal faster than the most sanguine anticipated, which causes our old moss-back croakers to shed their hulls and come out live, ogressive men. A few citizens have formed what they style the F. C. Houser Land syndicate and are buy-ing up lands to prevent speculation in order to hold out inducements to good farmers from the north to come here and live, thus enabling them to buy convenient lands without paying the advanced prices which is sure out paying the advanced prices which is sure to come in a very short time. Captain J. B. James has sold the T. V Fagan plantation, one of the finest in this sec-tion, two miles from depot, to this syndicate, and yesterday Mr. Edwin Finn, left for Grand and yesterday Mr. Edwin Finn, left for Grand Rapids, Michigan, and will return in a few days with a few farmers, mechanics, horticulturists and laborers, who will get the choice of this 500 acre farm, which will be cut up to ouit purchasers, and the fact that phosphate has been discovered near here, both at Rich Hill in Crawford and about Henderson, in Houston, makes Fort Valley the most desirable place now on the globe. Every live man is trying to get up some scheme that will benefit the town, and there are many investigators here all the time, with a few sales of real estate daily.

While every one is trying to keep down the boom will spring up now and then, but is crushed by our wiser heads, who say the town is too favorably located and the surroundings are too good to need any boom to make it flourish and increase in population.

IMPROVEMENTS IN CORDELE.

Cordelle, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The plendid building for the new shee factory is how nearing completion. The machinery for same has been ordered shipped and in two more weeks the hopes of its founders is that it will be turning out shoes complete. The houses will be turning out shoes complete. The houses for the operatives are neaf four room cottages, which will be rented to them at six dollars per month. The factory and tenement houses all make a handsome appearance. Nothing has caused more confidence in the future of Cordele than this large establishment.

The Cordele Ice factory will be in active operation in ten days. Cantain J. B. Scott. the eration in ten days. Captain J. B. Scott, the efficient president of the Cordele Guano company has also been elected president of the Cordele Fee company, and he will no doubt make a grand success of both.

Architect D. B. Woodroof, of Macon, has prepared plans for the work, extelladed.

Architect D. B. Woodroof, of Macon, has prepared plans for the new hotel at Cordele and is now hunting contractors and purchasing material for its erection. It will be of brick, three stories high and will be a model of beauty and elegance throughout.

The English colony located at Cordele, has been reinforced by a few additional emigrants from Ipswich, England, and quite a number of Englishmen are expected in a short while.

Englishmen are expected in a short while.

Mr. E. J. Smith has just commenced a brickyard at Cordele, and is now burning his first kiln of brick. He says that he has the best thing in southwest Georgia, as Cordele will buy all the brick his machine can make, and brick here are high.

will buy all the brick his machine can make, and brick here are high.

Mr. D. D. McCall, the popular traveling salesman of Sesel & Hecht, of Macon, Ga., will wed Miss Dilla Johnson, of this place, at the Baptist church, 8 p. m., on 22d instant. Both the bride and groom are very popular in Cordele.

Electric Lights in Milledgeville.

Electric Lights in Milledgeville.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Church-goers of Milledgeville worshipped beneath the glare of electric lights on Sunday night. The electric light company finished their circuit late Saturday evening, and fixed up the globes, etc., in the churches so that the buildings could be lighted by electricity during Sunday night's services. The lights used by the churches are thirty-two candle power, with an average of fiften lights in each building. Big crowds were at the churches, and the lights glared with a brilliancy almost equal to the sun's rays. The fixtures for lighting the streets and houses of the city will be in readiness during this week, and Milledgeville will be lighted by electricity in the future.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A number of capitalists from the north and west are now in Dawson, Lumpkin and White counties, investigating the mines of those counties with a view of investing. There are thirteen in the party, and they hail from New York and Missouri, principally. Mr. George H. Gould, a nephew of the great railroad magnate, is among the number. The party is in charge of Mr., John Martin, managing director of the Saint George Gold Mining company, of Dawson county. The party will return to Gainesville on Friday or Saturday, and a banquet will be given in their honor.

THE FARMERS PROGRESSING.

They Add Banking Facilities to Their Co-GRIFFIN, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—Put another bank down for Griffin.

The last legislature granted the Farmers' Cooperative company and oil mill of Griffin the power of adding a banking, investment, loan and trust company to their manufacturing investment. Their object is to lend money to vestment. Their object is to lend money to worthy farmers, so they can make cash purchases instead of having to deal on time.

Of the organization the Morning Call of tomorrow will say the following:

The company will have a thirty-ton oil mill, with capacity of $15,000 oil a week; a new ginnery, fire-proof and brick, which will gin and pack a bale of cotton in ten minutes; a guano mill and bone that will turn out 5,000 tons of guano; an excellent electric plant, and waterworks capable of throwing 10,000 gallons of water anywhere on the buildings in a moment's notice; a seed house, costing over $1,500, and that will hold vast quantities of seed; their phosphate lands and acid chambers, their lots down the railroad, the Tutwiler and other property giving them a plant property and running capital to the amount of $90,000.

It will be of great benefit to the farmers of

It will be of great benefit to the farmers of middle Georgia and the merchants of Griffin, and will grow up into an institution of which all our people will be proud. It will take over $100,000 to handle its phosphate and guano, which amount the Griffin banks will largely furnish.

furnish.

Mr. Searcy, the president, is working up the financial features, and says he sees great success ahead for all who are fortunate enough to own stock in this valuable property.

The following are the officers of the company:

pany: W. E. H. Searcy, president; J. H. Walker manager; J. F. Stillwell, secretary; R. H

Manager; J. F. Stiller.
Johnson, treasurer.
ANOTHER BIG DEAL. The Farmers' alliance have made a large deal today. They have invested in a large tract of phosphate lands in Florida, from which their guano factory will be supplied here. A chemical analysis in the possession of President Searcy, made by the state chemist of Florida, puts the strength of this phosphate eight per cent ahead of that from the beds of Charleston, S. C. Not only is it stronger, but by owning and operating their own phosphate beds, the guano can be furnished to customers at a little lower figure than it is at present furnished them.

Mr. Searcy and his co-laborers certainly have the farmers' interest at heart, and are not leaving anything undone that will give them one cent advantage in a trade.

MARSHALVILLE'S FAIR. Preparing for a Fine Exhibit of the Product of the Country.

Marshalville, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]— The Marshalville Agricultural club, one of the oldest and most progressive in the state, will hold its annual fair about the first of August. Quite a large cash premium list has been offered, and the exhibits of farm products and fruits will do credit to the state fair. In its stock display, the club specially prides itself. Last year the ample grounds were filled with herds of butter-making Jerseys, milk-giving Devons, besides the various breeds of hogs— the Berkshire, Poland China, Essex, Guinea, and the original Georgia Razor-back-valuable and the original Georgia Razor-back—valuable because he can't be caught without a dog. The colt display will probably be the finest ever made in southwest Georgia. The county is thoroughly aroused upon the subject of raising their own stock, and many fine colts are found here. The club has lately purchased an imported jack at great cost, and proposes to free itsselves from its dependency on Tennessee and Kentucky in this respect. A grand barbecue, free to all comers, will add unction to the occasion, and will appeal forcibly to the "inner man." The $10,000 hotel, projected by the improvement company, will probably be ready to give a house-warming to its friends.

THEY WANT TRANSPORTATION.

A Delegation From Franklin Attends the Boat Meeting. FRANKLIN, Ga., April 23 .- [Special.]-A delegation consisting of about twenty of Heard's best citizens, left this morning to at end a boat meeting in West Point today. Every delegate is greatly enthused over the matter, and is taking a great deal of interest in it. The subscriptions that are carried by the delegates amount to $6,000. These men will bring us back the news positively as to whether a boat line will be made from Frankwhether a boat line will be made from Frank-lin to West Point. The West Point stock-holders tell us that the trouble in building this line is crossing a dam a few miles this side of West Point. These men will go to this dam on the boat from West Point and ex-amine it, then report when they return as to whether this line will be built. Every one is very anxious for the answer to bein the affirm-ative.

An Electric Plant for Carrollton CARROLLTON, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]— Carrollton will soon have an electric plant and the city lighted by electricity. A company consisting of Hon. S. P. Mandeville, Henry O. consisting of Hon. S. P. Mandeville, Henry O. Roof, Henry Lanier and D. F. New, of this city, and David Quackinbush, G. F. Quackinbush and W. H. Brown, of Tallapoosa, have formed themselves into a company and ask for a charter for the Carrollton light and power company. Work will soon commence for lighting the town with electricity.

Dawson's Brickyard. Dawson's Brickyard.

Dawson, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—A brickyard is now in successful operation in the northwestern suburbs of Dawson, operated by Messrs. J. T. Lee, A. M. Jones and W. B. Gibson. One noticeable fact is that the "hands were on a strike" the other day, which suggest that the enterpise is keeping up with the times and will succeed. The "strike" was some over and matters are nowing along satisful. soon over and matters are moving along satis

THE DEMOCRATIC NEGRO OF CAR-ROLL COUNTY.

He Has Been on the Same Plantation for Sixty-Two Years, and Works Honestly for His Daily Bread.

CARROLLTON, Ga., April 23 .- [Special.]-Carrollton county has one democratic negro. His name is Sol Bowen, and he was the property of Hon. Frank Bowen in the days of slavery. Uncle Sol, as he is familiarly called, was met by your correspondent a few days since, and gave quite an interesting talk.

In answer to the question as to his age, Uncle Sol said he was now seventy-seven years old, and had been living on or near the place on which he lives now for the last sixty-two years. He said that he had never been sick in his life, nor never had the backache. He said he could plow or hoe as much as any boy, and could pick two hundred pounds of cotton any

In answer to the question concerning his politics, Uncle Sol said he always had voted the democratic ticket, and always expected to He said that he couldn't see why it was that the fool negroes voted the republican ticket, for the yankees cared nothing in the world for them, only to get their votes, and that the white people of this country were his friends, and would be his friends as long as he done

The LaGrange Postoffice. LAGRANGE, Ga., April 23.—[Special.]—The republican party at this place, which, it appears, is composed entirely of negroes, with one exception—Y. A. Gresham—manifests considerable interest in the appointment of a postmaster for LaGrange. Several meetings have been held to discuss the matter. Some of them want a negro appointed postmaster, and others fayor Gresham. A compittee has been others favor Gresham. A committee has been appointed to confer with Colonel Buck. Many of our people would like to see Miss Stella Laird, who has been mentioned in this con-nection, get the appointment.

Henry Watterson's Lecture.

Tonight the Hon. Henry Watterson will deliver in DeGive's opera house his lecture on "Money and Morals," and the occasion is one which we hope to see our people of taste and culture take advantage of. Watterson is a journalist by profession, but he is something more. If he had never seen the inside of a newspaper office, his literary aptitude would have won him distinction. He is a man of affairs, whose ardent and restless temperament has been tempered by culture, a scholar of wide attainments and a humorist whose perception is keen enough to see to the core of human nature.

Mr. Watterson, in his position as editor of the Courier-Journal, has done a great work for the south since the war, his purpose and his desires running parallel in some measure with those of the late Henry W. Grady. It was due to his influence that the first really important movement in opposition to sectionalism was made after the war. He organized what was known among editors and politicians as the "Great Quadrilateral." The combination was made up of Mr. Watterson, Mr. Halstead, Mr. Horace White and Mr. Whitelaw Reid-the Courier-Journal, the Cincinnati Commercial, the Chicago Tribune and the New York Tribune. The Philistines and paragraphers of the press made all sorts of fun of the Quadrilateral, but there can be no doubt that the newspapers composing it exerted a tremendous influence on the public sentiment of the country. It drove sectional hate and prejudice into a corner for the time, and their vicious manifestations have been less serious.

Mr. Watterson's work, however, did not end here. He has been one of the foremost champions of the south, defending this section and this people from the slanderous attacks of republican sectionalists with a felicity of style, an aptness of phrase, a power of argument and an intimate knowledge of the situation rarely approached among editorial

In his efforts to place the south fairly before those who are prejudiced because they are ignorant, Mr. Watterson has not confined himself to the columns of his own journal, but has found opportunity to convey his views to the readers of the magazines and reviews. The current number of the Cosmopolitan magazine contains the first part of an article on the southern question, which promises to be the most elaborate and important contribution that Mr. Watterson has made to the discussion of this subject.

But we are not writing a sketch of the career of this distinguished publicist. It was our purpose merely to remark that Mr. Watterson deserves to have a large audience of Atlanta's best people at the opera house tonight, and to say that those who go will not only be entertained, but charmed.

A Model Rich Man.

Editor George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, has done a good thing in permitting the publication, of his "Recollections" in an attractive little volume.

Mr. Childs is a self-made man, but he has act an excuse or eccentricity He is a rich man, but he is as modest and unassuming as he was when he was a boy delivering goods in a wheelbarrow at a salary of two dollars a week,

It is a pleasure to read the life story of this great and good man. It shows what brains, industry, temperance and frugality will do in such a country as ours. Mr. Childs is the head of a great newspaper; he is many times a millionaire, and he is the friend of many of the world's most famous men and women, but his brightest qualities show to the best advantage when he is brought in contact with the poor and suffer-He does not depend upon splendid charities to advertise him, or occasional donations to churches to win the good will of a certain class-his benevolence reaches out to everything that deserves it.

In looking over this book one begins to understand the secret of the man's success. He has all his life been so wise, and just, and good to his fellow men that people love him, and are unconsciously leagued together to push and prosper his enterprises.

The book should be read by the young men, and the old ones, too.

They Know When They Have Enough. A correspondent of the New York Sun. referring to the recent conventions of negroes at Greensboro, N. C., and Richmond, Va., expresses the belief that the negroes are now solidly united in the determination to stand aloof from the influence of the republican bosses, who have heretofore driven them like sheep to the political shearing, and that they have withdrawn their support from the party which has betrayed them to their undoing by violating its most sacred pledges to the negro. They have got so little for their labor and loyalty to the party in the past, that they have decided to withhold their votes from it in future elections by way of retaliation; these votes will be missed, they say, and when inquiry develops the cause the republicans will "come to their senses" and give the negro a showing. It is hinted that this abstention from voting the republican ticket will ultimately result in another "party," modeled after the plan of the centrist faction

'n Germany. Whatever may be the result of this new move on the part of the negroes of the south -if it shall become general-one thing at least is certain; they are everywhere awakening to a realization of the fact that the party which has been driving them before it for the past twenty-five years—the party which brings fortune to the few and misery to the many-is unworthy of their suffrage; a party of promises, whose unredeemed pledges negro loom up in black record against it. With the dawn of intelligence the neg sees his duty in clearer light; he has had a political experience in the past which has nade him watchful for the future, and he grows wiser day by day.

Whether the negroes form a party of their own or not, it is noticeable that democratic negroes are becoming more numerous, and the best and most intelligent element of the negro race is found in the democratic ranks. They can no longer trust their interests to the republicans, and what the latter will lose by the withdrawal of their votes must necessarily be a democratic gain.

Two Cranky Stories.

Some people in North Carolina still cling to the belief that the famous Marshal Ney was never really shot, but made his escape, and lived and died in the old north state as a country school teacher.

This is absurd enough, but the publication of a recent special from Birmingham, Alabama, shows that people still take stock in the story of the assassin Booth's escape, and believe him to be living somewhere under an assumed name.

The members of the Ney family looked into the North Carolina story years ago, and declared that there was nothing in it. In the Booth case, the evidence that the right man was killed is overwhelming. Witnesses still living have more than once given their testimony, and there is nothing to show that they were untruthful or mistaken.

But these two myths will have a long life. They may some day be received as history, and then, after patient investigation, disappear. People love mystery and romance. They love to imagine the improbable, and their fancies crystallize into legends. We have epidemics of history-making, when we strip William Tell, Columbus and Isabella of their glories, and give their honors to others. We turn very common clay into heroes only to shatter them when we are in the mood.

So these startling yarns about Ney and Booth will have their run. Evidence and argument will have no weight with people who are determined to trust to their imagina tion for their facts.

A Sensible Libel Law.

The new libel law-just passed by the New York senate is on the right line, and should be followed by every state.

Another Wanderer Returns.

Mr. Charles P. Lane, of Alabama, who has been acting with the republicans for several years, writes a letter to the Huntsville Mercury, in which he announces his intention of returning to the democratic fold.

Since Mr. Lane has been acting with the republicans he has been in a position to discover the true inwardness of the fraud, and he makes no bones of speaking out in meeting. He has acted with the republicans for nearly eight years, and during that time he says he has been in the predicament of the man who was buried alive, face downward-the more he scratched, the nearer he got to hades.

Mr. Lane says truly that the republican party in the south is a fraternal national delegate-making machine, and has no other object. For the carrying out of this purpose, a corrupt and purchasable element is absolutely necessary, and it has been Mr. Lane's experience that the more decent and intelligent a man is, the more helpless he finds himself in the republican party of the south. Mr. Lane bows himself out of the republican party of the south at this time because no respectable white man finds its associations comfortable or agreeable, and out of the national party because it is almost wholly sectional in its purposes. It will be observed that Mr. Harrison and his partner Quay are doing a great work for the south in driving all the decent respectable white men out of the republican party at the south. We trust that Harrison and Quay will keep right on. No decent southerner is needed to run the national delegatemaking machine.

"A Mean Trick."

The people of Charleston are justly indignant over the slight which has been put upon them by the recall of the Pan-American delegates. The News and Courier denounces it as "a mean trick," and in view of all the circum stances it certainly has that appearance. Charleston has made great preparations to receive them; the public buildings were decorated with mottoes of welcome, the national colors; and "God Bless Our Home" was doubtless fluttering in red letters on white streamers from the tip-top of tall towers; all the arrangements for a grand reception to the foreigners were perfect; the banquet table "groaned with the weight of the feast," and at least a dozen distinguished men had prepared long speeches on the toasts assigned them-speeches that now, alas! will never find utterance!

No wonder the people of Charleston are mad! But they should content themselves and find consolation in the reflection that the two or three delegates who made up the southern excursion were unworthy the great honors prepared for them; and as for the speeches-they can be made to fit in somewhere. They died for the time, like the speech Mark Twain intended to make at a ministerial banquet in London, but he got his revenge by publishing his in a book sometime afterward, and the South Carolina orators may do likewise.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THERE IS DISSATISFACTION in Cuba. People are leaving the island for South America. High taxes have caused 400,000 farms to be seized. It costs $14,000,000 a year to support the military and naval establishment, and Cuba foots the bill. Naturally annexation to the United States is favored by annexation to the United States is favored by many, and some of the newspapers are discussing the matter. The government journals in Spain protest against the agitation of the question and urge the authorities to strangle the movement be-fore it becomes formidable. Unless a change takes place the better class of Cubans will soon emigrate to other countries. They are tired of being plundered by Spain.

The Herald On the Grady Book.

Few memorial volumes are so well prepared as this. It opens with a very good biographi-cal sketch of about sixty pages by Mr. Harris, after which is printed the able memorial sketch prepared at the request of the New York Southern society, by Mr. Marion J. Verdery. Then nine speeches by Mr. Grady are given the famons address on "The New South" among them. Following these are about a hundred pages of short stories, sketches and essays, showing Mr. Grady's versatility with his pen. Nearly twenty poems in memoriam are followed by reports of memorial meetings at Atlanta and Macon. The most significant portion of the book, however, is entitled, "Tributes of the Press." these, the north speaks as glowingly as the south, and it is a notable fact that the majority of these northern eulogies are from republican or independent journals.

The book concludes with letters from distin guished Americans, and a sketch of THE AT-ANTA CONSTITUTION, to which Mr. Grady devoted the best years of his life. There is a good portrait of the deceased editor, and pic-tures of the home of his early days and his esidence at Atlanta. The dedication is as

"Looking forward to the realization of the lofty purpose that guided our messenger of peace and to the splendid climax of his hear and aspirations, this memorial volume of the life and services of Henry Woodfin Grady is dedicated to the peace, unity and fraternity the north and south and to the progress and sperity of a reunited country, with one flas and one destiny."

Some men are restrained only by the fear of a swift and terrible punishment. They care nothing for the condemnation of the right-minded but being cowards at heart, they will not risk their worthless lives in pursuit of their favorite amusement. The "Mississippi plan" of dealing with them is followed all over the south, and with the happlest results. It is safe to say that there are fewer cases of seduction and less gossip about women in the south than in any other quarter of the globe. The diversion of the slanderer comes the globe. Doubtless Mr. Jones would prefer milder means of correcting the twin evils of libertinism and the murder of reputation. So would all of us. But he is not an idealist. DR. DEPEW GIVES FLORIDA A BOOST And He Says, Too, That the South is the Best Place for the Negro.

Dr. Depew told his fellow alumni of Yale at Delmonico's last night that Florida is the place for young men of limited capital and poor health to go if they want to get along in the world. One acre down there, he said, was as good as 250 in some places up here, if one was willing to wait eight years to grow an orange grove. He said that his southern trip had proved to him that, if the negro leaves politics alone, he can get along better in the south than he can in the north, and that the south is the place for him. "I believe," said he, "that it is the imperative duty of the American people to establish a postal savings institution all over this country." In such an institution, he said the negro could accumulate property, and in the accumulation of property was the saving, not only of the negro but of the whole south.

Death of Eugene Wilson.—Mr. Eugene When, one of Atlanta's most promising and popular young gentlemen, died yesterday at his father home, 146 Calhoun street, of pneumonia. It. Wilson began his business career in the cierts office of the Fulton superior court under Jude Strong and proved himself worth every confidereposed in him. For a long time then he was with Appleton Publishing company, and was sequently private secretary to Major Berker, the Richmond and Danville. Mr. Will an exceptionally good young m was a member of the For sbyterian church, a member of the Yea Men's Christian association and a meas of the Christian Endeavor. He was only a week, and the news of his death will be great shock to his many friends. The funeral take place from the Fourth Presbyterian chr this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The remains will laid to rest in Caldana.

A Chance to Visit Europe.—Dr. Barrett's party which he will take to Europe this summer, has a unexpected vacancy. One of the ladies who wa most anxious to make the tour of Europe under Dr. Barrett's care has found it impossible to leave her home this summer. By this unforeseen ca-tingency an opportunity is afforded for some other lady to take the vacant place. Since the party was completed Dr. Barrett has received a large

A New Burglar Alarm.—There is a lady living on Ivy street who dreams of burglars. Every night she looks under the bed and through the various closets. In order to be perfectly secure at various closers. In order to be perfectly search night she has recently adopted a new plan. At every door she places a large tin pan in such a way that the slightest motion will throw it ever with a crash. Last night the wisdom of the procantions was made manifest. In the small h cautions was made manifest. In the small nours of the morning, when the lady was asleep and also her patient husband, there was a sudden, deafening noise. The pan at the kitchen door had been overthrown, manifestly by burglars. The patient husband rose, grasped his gun and went in search of the intruder, determined to leave nothing but aremain. Hurrying to the kitchen, he listened. Octside a heavy breathing could be heard. Suddenly side a heavy breathing could be heard. Suddenly he threw wide the kitchen door. There was a wild yelp of terror, and a small black dog weat flying down the walk. No more pans are allowed to be placed against the doors in that house

It looks just now that they will be floated. The water bonds prevailed by an extremely small margin.

What the City Attorney Says. Colonel John B. Goodwin was found at home last night, and shown the figures on the "Have the water bonds carried?" he was

"That's the question," he laughed. "Do you think they have?"

"Well, perhaps I oughtn't to say. Judge Anderson and I were discussing the probability of such a result today, and we agreed that the question involved demanded very careful study-in other words that we ought not to commit ourselves now one way or the other."

"Were you agreed on the opinion?"

"Yes; but both of us might change it. It's merely an off-hand opinion."

And while the colonel adhered religiously to his non-committal policy, it is pretty safe to say that the "offhand opinion" referred to was in favor of the water bonds-that "two-thirds of the qualified voters" meant two-thirds of the votes east, and not two-thirds of the number reg-

"The figures given as to the vote on water bonds," said he, "show that they received two-thirds of the vote actually cast in the election, and also two-thirds of the number that the rule for ascertaining whether the requisite vote has been had for or against bonds shall be a reference to the tally sheets of the last general municipal election. See code of Georgia, sections 508 to 509, inclusive.

"Now, the distinct legal question in the case would seem to be, whether if a registration for the election held has been had, there should also be a twothirds of the whole registration; or in other words, whether the registration list is to govern in the matter of ascertaining the number of qualified voters over, and as against the rule fixed by the general statute of the state as first stated. Now, while I have impressions as to this, but not too fixed to be subject to the results of fuller and maturer consideration of the subject, I hardly think it would be proper form to give the views I entertain for publication inasmuch as I may be called upon to officially advise the city government with reference

JOHN GAVAN FOUND GUILTY OF RE-CEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

Compromise That Was Agreed to and Then Disagreed to—A Receiver Ap-pointed for S. H. Phelan & Co.

John Gavan, the auctioneer who bought the guilty of receiving stolen goods in the superior court yesterday morning.

Under the circumstances Mr. Gavan's conviction is more than ordinarily interesting.

Last week he appeared in court and, after a conference with Solicitor Hill, agreed to have the case against him noll prossed upon pay-

At the time Mr. Gavan had given up all the books he had bought from Richard, and his appearance in court to have the case settled before it was called for trial was voluntary.

The costs amounted to about forty dollars,

The costs amounted to about forty de and although Mr. Gavan thought he was doing all the losing in the transaction, having re-stored the 812 books he paid five cents each for, being out some forty dollars in that way, he finally agreed to pay the costs and sever his connection with the case.

This was last Friday. But when Richard was paid out of jail on Monday, Mr. Gavan's mind changed, and he concluded to let his chances of acquittal without costs go into the hands of a jury.

Tuesday he notified the solicitor of his decision, and the solicitor notified him in turn that his case would be called yesterday morn-

When court opened Mr. Gavan was there, with Colonel Hulsey, his attorney, and several Richard, the Greek, was one of them-an Richard's testimony, however, did not entirely exonerate Mr. Gavan from blame. When asked if the defendant knew that the books he sold him at five cents each had been stolen, Richard replied that naturally he had tried to prevent Mr. Gavan from discovering

He referred to his own conviction of stealing the books, and said that he had represented himself to Mr. Gavan as a book agent. . Richard had carried the defendant twenty books at a time, the total number covering a period of several months.

Mr. Gavan's auction house is in plain sight of Orr's book store, where Richard worked. The distance between the two places is not more than a half block.

Mr. Gavan's son was introduced. He stated that he had offered to give Richard fifteen cents apiece for certain books, and that he had been arrested in the act of taking these books from Mr. Orr's store.

The jury was out only a short time, when a verdict finding Mr. Gavan guilty of receiving stolen goods was agreed upon.

Judge Clark reserved his sentence in the case.

The offense of which Mr. Gavan is convicted is a misdemeanor, and the penalty is fine or imprisonment, one or both.

"Atlanta has some fine talent," said one of the enthusiasts, "the best in the south, and there could be four or five clubs organized here. Savannah had a four-club city league last season and the games were interesting and well patronized. New Orleans has a six-club city league this season, and $2,500 goes to the club that wins the pennant. Why can't Atlanta have a city league?"

This week there will be a club organized, the players are being booked already.

Next Friday afternoon the new club and the Fort McPherson club will play at Grant park.

WHAT THE CITY OFFICIALS FIND

The Wheat Street Improvement in the Hands of Mayor Glenn—The Pine Street Blocks in the Hands of the Committee.

Mayor Glenn is just now studying the action of the general council in opening Wheat street at Peachtree.

He may write a veto, too.
Since 1884 efforts have been made almost constantly to have Wheat street widened where it enters Peachtree, and every year petitions have been taken to the general council for the work. Several times the papers have been placed in the hands of assessors who have made reports, but each time the reports were deteated in council.

Some time ago the report came up again in council and was sent to a board of assessors. That board examined the ground and submitted a report assessing the damages to the Alexander property on the corner of Peachtree and Wheat. The report was championed in the general council by Hon. Albert Howell, and was adopted and sent to the board of aldermen. The board concurred in the action of the council, attaching an amendment thereto. The council has accepted it.

By the report the city agrees to pay Mr. Alexander for his building $5,000 cash, and recommends to the councils of 1891 and 1892 to pay $6,250 each.

So the work will be carried out unless Mayor Glenn vetoes the paper.

JOHNSON-CLARKE.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING AT ST. PHILIP'S LAST NIGHT.

An Event in Which All Atlanta Evinced Great Interest—The Ceremony and the Receptions.

For many weeks society has been eagerly anticipating the wedding of two great favorites, Mr. Harvey Johnson and Miss Mande Clarke, which occurred last evening at St. Phillip's church, and which was a most brilliant affair.

which was a most brilliant attair.

The decorations of the church were very handome. The pulpit, at the right, was hung in heavy olds of satin, surmounted with Easter lillies bending in their many graceful ways, while at the base was a bank of palms. On the other side the base was a bank of palms. On the other of the church the organ loft was hung with a graceful strands of gossamer-like white tulle fastened with clusters of snowballs, and headed with palms. The font of white marble adjoining was filled with palms and delicate maiden hair fern.

The transcept was hung in draperies of white and gold, whose soft folds brought into prominent relief the palms and ferns on the holy tablets. The flowers on this were snowballs, two huge jars to the flowers on this were snowballs, two huge jars. of them on each side of the cross of white. Stands of palms filled the space to the chancel rail, which was covered with tulle in billowy folds caught with bunches of snowballs, and whose gate was entirely made of this same flower. The base chancel rail was banked with palms, an effect of this dainty lattice work of white ris ing from its bed of green, was attractive and beau-tiful beyond measure. Over and above it all, the lights through the handsome windows shed a brilliant glow, exquisitely in harmony with the entire scene.

Promptly at the appointed hour the ushers, Messrs. Berry and Thompson, Comegys and Crankshaw, marched up the broad aisle which was outlined on one side with a broad ribbon, of yellow, and on the other with a similar one in green. The first strains of Mendlessohn's Wedding March pealed forth from the massive organ. At the same, time Mr. Johnson and his two grooms-men, Messrs. Dan and Peter Grant, entered from the side, while Bishop Beckwith and Mr. Funsten approached the front of the transept.

The attendants, Messrs. Will Inman, St. Julien Ravenel, Darwin Johnson, of Louisville; then Mr. Redwine, Mr. John Grant, Mr. Morris Bran Mr. Kedwine, Mr. John Grant, Mr. Morris Bran-don, followed by Mr. Joe Orme, Mr. Quintard Peters and Mr. Jim McKeldin, immedi-ately preceded the bridesmaids, who entered in the following order: Miss Inman, Miss Lily Orme, Miss Lollie Hammond; then Miss Julia Orme, Miss Marsh, Miss Janie Orme, Miss Addie Maude, Miss Sallie Grant, Miss Julia Lowry Clarke. Then came the bride and her two sisters, Miss Clarke and Miss Joan Clarke.

Miss Clarke and Miss Joan Clarke.
Miss Clarke has been always considered one of Atlanta's most beautiful, as well as most popular social favorites, and never has her spiritual beauty been seen to greater advantage. Her gown of faille, in princesse style, had its front of gossa-mer, embroidered mous selaine de soie, in soft folds. The low cut bodice and high demi-sleeves were finished with plain bands of wrought pearls; the tulle veil was fastened with natural orange blossoms. Her large bouquet was of bride roses and blilies of the valley, and she carried also the ivory bound prayer book from which the ceremony was

The maids of honor wore dainty gowns of crepe de chire, embroidered, Miss Clarke's in yellow and Miss Joan Clarke's in delicate green. Their bouquets were of maiden-hair fern and daisies.

The bridesmaids were gowns of gauze, with flowers and ribbons in the prevailing tones, three in pure white, three in white and yellow and three white and green. The beautiful ceremony of the Episcopal church was performed by the bishop in his peculiarly im-pressive manner, as the organ, in the softest tones, played the spring song from Mendelssohn. Rev. Mr. Funsten, rector of St. Philip's, assisted in the

The decorations here were of unusual beauty In the drawing room, at the left, the bridal couple received the congratulations and good wishes of the relatives, bridal party and the few intimate friends who were expected. Here the decorations were entirely in white and green, the background of palms and snowballs being most effective. From the chandeller was suspended a huge ball of Easter lilies, and near by, in an epergne, the same queenly flowers were artistically beautiful against the soft draperies of white and green. The brilliantly lighted halls and parlors were filled with rare flowers in all sorts of artistic arrangements, which the floors of whitest linen rendered still more effective.

The bridal table was par excellence the object of admiration, in its dainty appointments of green, gold and white; the flowers being bride roses, lilies of the valley and hair fern, arranged gracefully. After this recep-tion Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for the north, followed by the loving congratulations of the many friends to whom they have endeared themselves from childhood, and who rejoice that in future they will make Atlanta their home.

The Y. P. S. C. G., of the Church of the Redeemer, have issued invitations to a "conversa-tion party," for Friday evening, which will doubt-less be a most enjoyable affair.

The Austin Daily News, of April 15th, contains the following: Last evening, at their residence on East Second street, Mr. and Mrs. Nalle tendered a compli-mentary german to Miss Wylie, of Atlanta, Ga. who has been visiting Miss Nalle for some weeks past. The large drawing rooms and halls were packed by the society folks of Austin, gathered to do homage to the fair beneficiary of the evening. Possessed of a most vivacious and attractive manner, she has won hosts of friends and ad-mirers in this city who will at all times take great delight in paying tribute at her court. Mrs. and Miss Nalle move among their guests looking to the wants of each and all with a most careful at-tention. The collation spread was a most sumptu-ous one, and the pleasure derived was too fully illustrated to need further comment. The roo were bannered in greenery, walled in bloom. In the gleam of innumerable lights, the rich colors and sparkling jewels of the fair ladies were quite dazzingly effective. It was a gathering of beatty. brilliancy and grace; the fair, sweet side of life; the perfection of service-of consequent ease, in ord nepenthe and enjoyment.

She is one hundred and eleven years old, and is supported by a son eighty-five years old and a daughter sixty-five.

The old woman is quite incapable of earning her own livelihood. She is watched as a child would be, and not allowed to go out alone.

All day long this Winnie Davis sits by the fire or out in the sunshine playing with dolls or marbles. She has quite an assortment of dolls and it is a strange sight to see this gray-headed old woman laughing and playing with them like an infant.

THE SALE OF ONE HUNDRED AND THREE LOTS AT M'PHERSON PARK.

The Situation and General Character of This Property and Few Points About

It is questioned if any auction sale this season has attracted more attention than the sale of one hundred and three lots at McPherson park, which is to take place today, beginning promptly at 3

This property is located on the new dummy line, and is considered, by those versed in real estate, to be the choicest suburban property about Atlanta. It has such a happy location, being high and dry, covered wit beautiful shade trees, that it is considered to be an ideal place for a home. Atlanta has grown too big for her citizens to live right in the center of the city. They must go out into the suburbs. There they will find beautiful building sites, and will be blessed with a home free from noise, smoke and dust, and gladdened with pure air, balmy breezes and a consciousness of knowing that when they lie down at night-time they will breathe nature's pure oxygen. Such a place is that offered you today at McPherson park. You can get one of time, and it will be to your interest to be at the sale and look out for yourself. You have doubtless been thinking for a long time that you would begin and buy you a home. Now is the time. If you do not start you will never succeed. It is those who begin that suc-

Capitalists can find no better place in which to invest their money. The property is sure to double in value in the next year or so.

Every preparation has been made for the entertainment of those who may attend. Take the dummy at 2 and 2:45, and you will be put off right on the ground. It is a free ride. If you want to know more about the property call on Wilson & Logan, 13 North Broad street.

The War of Roses.
From the Brunswick Post.
The story of the Capulets and Montagues is about to be told again. The daughter of the cavalier and the grandson of the puritan have found a subject upon which they can agree. It is given out that Miss Winnie Davis, the daughter of the confederacy, and Mr. Alfred Wilkinson, of Syracuse, N. Y., the grandson of Samuel J. May, the great abolitionist leader, are soon to be married. There is something dramatic in this event, should it occur. It is philosophy taught by example.

struggle. The leaders of the contending forces are trying to cut each other's throats. The smoke of battle rolls in black clouds, blinding the eyes and confusing the mind. Boundless hatred and unquenchable thirst for revenge deform the faces of dying men. The curtain falls amid the blare of military music.

of dying men. The curtain raiss aimed the obset of military masic.

Twenty-five years are supposed to have elapsed. The curtain is rung up again. The scene has changed. The stately music of a joyous wedding march peals forth. The vestibule of the temple of matrimony bursts upon the eye. Its portals are festooned with roses and with orange blossoms, and adown the isle is a vista of amber light. The wedding procession enters. The and adown the isle is a vista of amber light. The wedding procession enters. The love-light beams from the eyes of the white-robed bride. The tender flute note sounds in the voice of the doting swain. The surpliced priest in solemn tones tells the story of Eden, and the bond is forged that forever binds the child of the confederacy and the heir of abolitionists.

The curtain falls. The contest of the cavalier is over. The "War of Roees" is ended.

THE FACTS STATED.

WOODS WHITE'S LAWYERS GIVE THE FACTS ABOUT HIS CASE.

Statement from Judge Pardee that the Case Was Disposed of by Consent-Mr. White's Fights Fully Secured.

It is with reluctance that we again appear in the It is with reluctance that we again appear in the newspapers in connection with the case of W. Woods White vs. the Florence Hallroad and Improvement company, J. H. Field and William A. Hadson. We do not think the press is the proper place to discuss legal questions. The public has no interest in matters purely personal between parties litigant. But since Mr. White filed his suit there have been persistent efforts on the part of Mr. J. H. Field and through his influence, the effects of the railroad and improvement com-

of Mr. J. H. Field and through his influence, the officers of the railroad and improvement company, to place him in a false attitude.

Circulars containing gross libels have been published, and articles printed in the Florence Herald and Atlanta papers, in which a reckless disregard of the facts have been exhibited.

And since the case has been settled in New Orthers & Mr. White and his connect supposed in

And since the case has been settled in New Or-leans, as Mr. White and his counsel supposed in good faith, with an intention to carry out the agreement then and there made by Mr. J. H. Field, the field of honorable compromise has been left by the defendants and their attorneys and the weapons of misrepresentation and abuse em-weapons of misrepresentation and abuse employed.

The latest contribution to this literature of perversion and vindictiveness occurs in the cards of Mr. Milton Humes, counsel for defendants and W. B. Woods, president, published in the Florence Herald of the 12th instant, and copied by request in the Atlanta Journal of the 15th instant.

These gentlemen make a direct issue of veracity with us as to what occurred at New Orleans before the Hon. Judge Pardee, and to meet that issue is the purpose of this communication. We have asserted that pending the submission of the case before Judge Pardee, and before it was fully submitted or argued, an agreement was made by which Mr. White's rights as a promoter were fully conceded and recognized, and that when this agreement was completed Mr. White's counsel consented to dismiss his application for receiver and injunction, and that counsel for both sides prepared a consent order, dismissing said application, and when it was presented to the judge stated to him that it was m pursuance of the terms of the agreement.

Major Field, Mr. Humes, his counsel, and the tution and its good work. W. H. Hunt.

HISTORY OF THE HOME.

The early history of the home is an interesting one. In the year 1868 Mr. William Appleton, of New York city, said to Bishop Beckwith that, as an expression of personal friendship, he would give the sum of $10,000 to build a church in his diocese. Bishop Beckwith suggested that he would prefer to have the amount expended on a home for the orphans of confederate soldiers. Mr. Appleton was delighted with the suggestion. Bishop Beckwith then traveled through the state and begged the money with which to buy a site for the building. The ground in the city of Macon then known as the Macon and Western railroad property was bought by the bishop for repared a consent order, dismissing sata application, and when it was presented to the judge stated to him that it was in pursuance of the terms of the agreement.

Major Field, Mr. Humes, his counsel, and the officers of the Improvement company, doubtless under Major Field's direction, deny these facts. They state that the order was not a consent order, but passed by the judge on the "facts and merits of the case," that Major Field made no compromise whatever, and that Mr. White secured nothing by any agreement that was not assured to to him "before he instituted his wholly unwarrantable and wholly indefensible action."

There are three distinct issues between us and we take them up in succession: First, Was the order passed by Judge Pardee a consent order as we have asserted? To vindicate the correctness of our assertion on this point, and to make the matter perfectly conclusive, we call especial attention to the following statement of the facts indersed as true by Judge Pardee dismissing the application for receiver and injunction in the case of White against the Florence Rairroad and Injurement company was a consent order.

"The judge was asked by both Mr. Hill and Mr. Humes to pass the order, who stated to him at the time the order was presented that the parties had made a written adjustment of the matters in controversy between them.

This consent order was granted at the request of counsel for both parties before the cause had been fully submitted or argued.

"The above is my recollection of what occurred in New Orleans in the case of Woods White against the Florence Railroad and Improvement company et al. (Signed.) DON A. Parders, April 16th, 1890.

Circuit Judge."

We might rest our case here, simply invoking the application of that well-known legal maxing, "faisus in uno, faisus in omnibus." But our for-bearance has been exhausted, and we will demonstrate the equal correctness of our two other assertions.

2. Was an agreement made by Mr. J. H. Field as consideration to Mr. White for consenting to con then known as the Macon and Western railroad property was bought by the bishop for the sum of $2,500. Mr. Appleton sent him a check for $10,000 and afterwards gave $2,500 more. He then endowed the home with $10,000, making in all $22,500, and Bishop Beck with begged for the home six or seven thousand dollars more.

The home has had, altogether, eighty-four children as inmates.

2. Was an agreement made by Mr. J. H. Field as a consideration to Mr. White for consenting to the above order?

The following is the written agreement signed J. H. Field as the inducement to the consent order.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Please allow me through your columns to express my gratitude to Dr. Evans, the great magnetic physician, who is now practicing at 34 N. Forsyth street. For seven years I had been a complete cripple with paralysis of my right side. I could walk but little, and could not raise my'arm to my head. I applied to Dr. Evans, when he was practicing here eight years ago, who cured me, and I have remained a well man ever sinee. I know scores of others whom he cured during his former visit to Atlanta. Very respectfully, 26 Fowler St., P. O. Box 211.

BERRIDDEN FOR ONE YEAR—Dr. Evans visited my wife who had been completely bedridden from female weakness, paralysis and nervous exhaustion, and gave her one magnetic treatment, which so far restored her that she arose from her bed the next morning and walked around the room, and in a few days she was able to take a carriage and visit the doctor at his office. She is now quitea well woman, requiring only a little more time to build up her wasted and exhausted system, and we would be pleased to have anyone who so desires to call on us and learn for themselves the apparent miracle Dr. Evans has wrought on her.

8. Booth.

"Looking to the interest of the Florence Railroad and Improvement company and its stockholders, I. J. H. Field, do hereby consent that W. Woods White shall be considered and treated as one of the promoters of said company, and as such, entitled to shany in whatever profits they may realize therefrom as such promoters in the proportion of 1-9 thereof.

"I further agree to exert my influence with the other, promoters, in getting them to consent to such recognition of said White, they to give their consent upon condition that said White they consent upon condition that said White with the source of the consent upon condition that said white dismiss to have a settlement and adjustment on a fair, just and equitable basis of all matters between said promoters and said company, so soon as a final settlement of matters between said promoters and said company, so soon as a final settlement of matters between said promoters and said company with the Florency growing out of the contract with the said last named company, is had. (Signed.) J. H. FIELD."

But the ridiculous quibble is made that Mr. Field did not sign that paper until after Judge Pardee had signed the order dismissing the application for receiver and injunction. If this was true, we submit that it would not after the consented to by partie and connect between the consented to by partie and connect between the consented to by partie and connect between the fact being stated in the order that it was by consent. In the language of Mr. Toots they thought the matter of "no consequence," as such was the truth well understood by court, lawyers and parties, It did not occur to them that their consider of the consented to by partie and connect when the several written propositions for settlement would be greatly to that as tettlement would be greatly to that and that it was been fully connected with my one of the parties of the connection with the case, with full assent of his clicut and concurrence of his section connect, the his property signed to avise the race and

The Great Sale That Is to Take Place on April 30th Is Attracting Considerable Attention—A Few Points About It.

A Card from Mr. W. H. Hunt Regarding The sale of twenty of the choicest lots in The following card was received yesterday from Mr. W. H. Hunt:

The sale of twenty of the choicest forts in Inman park is attracting considerable attention. Parties owning property adjacent to the park are jubilant over the prospects of an increase in value of their property.

Inman park, as a residence property, cannot be surpassed, if equaled, in Atlanta. It has everything to make it the ideal residence property of Atlanta. The fact that none but the right serf of propole can proclasse a lot and right sort of people can purchase a lot and erect a house thereon, is a sufficient guarantee of its future. Furthermore, the property that is adjacent it is "gilt edge," and will always conversely the straight of the sufficient command the attention of a well-to-do class of people and of capitalists.

The following card was received yesterday from Mr. W. H. Hunt:

ATLANTA, April 19, 1890.—Editors Constitution: Your special of the 17th from Macon with the above heading, induces me to ask of you the publication of the following brief sketch of the Appleton Church Home for orphans. The financial showing made by your correspondent is very gratifying. Should the sale consideration be made with the suggested re-investment of the proceeds, estimated at some $40,000 or $50,000, the usefulness of the home that has for twenty years been quietly and unostentationsly doing its good work, would be greatly enlarged.

But what I wish particularly, in connection with its history, to call attention to, is the fact that on the close of the war the reunion, so far as our communion is concerned, was prompt and complete, sincere and without conditions. And we ought not to forget or ignore such acts. of Christian liberality as led to the establishment of this home for orphans. It would not be becoming in us, or just to such true friends as Mt. Appleton if we failed to remember and recognize their acts of benevolence towards the destitute and helpless of our own immediate people.

I may add that the sketch inclosed was Nearly every northern city of any note boasts of its park residences, and such residences are looked upon by the people as the choicest of the city. Atlanta, practically speaking, has no park residences as yet. The idea as conceived by Mr. Hurt, of the East Atlanta Land company, in making Inman park an ideal residence part of the city, is a happy one, and has indissolubly connected his name with the progress, and, for that matter, the history of Atlanta. He has done a great thing in bringing this park into existence. Hundreds of happy homes that will locate in it will sing his praises in the coming years. The property there is rapidly increasing in value. The lots that were sold in March have gone up several dollars a front foot. In fact, there is not a lot in the park that is not worth $50 a front foot. On April 30th, twenty of the choicest lots there will be offered for sale at auction. This fact should be remembered by home seekers and by capitalists. It is to the home seekers that the company prefer to sell their property. Those who desire to build houses can secure bargains in purchasing their lots.

Peachtree Park an Assured Success. Peachtree Park an Assured Success.

"Doctor, it seems that all the new suburban villages are on a boom. How is it with Peachtree park?" was asked Dr. Powell.

"Peachtree park is on no boom, but is in a healthy condition and steadily growing. During the last few weeks we have sold privately thirteen lots and donated three for church buildings, and still other parties are prising and selecting lots. We priced ten lots to parties yesterday. To accommodate all parties desiring a most delightful resort from cities and the lower country during the heat of summer, we propose a public sale during the month of May. Our school grows more prosperous, the number of pupils steadily increasing.

"Our railroad facilities are ample at present, with a prospect of being doubled during the year. In a year or two more I think Peachtree park will be one of the prettest suburbs of Atlanta, as well as the most healthy, owing to its elevated position bracing thest suburbs of Atlanta, as well as the most healthy, owing to its elevated position, bracing atmosphere, pure free-stone water and valuable mineral springs. If we had sufficient accommodation Peachtree park could offer as many inducements to persons seeking a healthy and pleasant climate for the summer as can be found in Georgia."

"Will there be any boarding house or hotel accommodations there this coming season?"

"Yes, several families have arranged for their accommodation again, having for a number of years been crowded during the whole reason, and I have leased my own residence, containing twenty-three rooms, to parties who

A BALD HEADED FACT

Is the opposite of a bare-faced lie. Most people think that an advertisement should always be classed among the latter—but hold on wait a minute-every rule has its exceptions, and when I assure you that my stock of Clothing is one you cannot afford to pass by in selecting your spring suit, I but state a plain fact that you can substantiate by looking over my line. Get a plat at the Atlanta Real Es tate Exchange Office, No. 5 South Pryor street, and go out and take a look at this beautiful little suburb. Don't say in a month or two "Why didn't you let me know?" They will all go within that time, from present indications, ' Calhoun street is being graded, and will have electric car lines within four months, or be paved with asphaltum, which will more than double the value of the property. We are assured of this, and also that it will have water and gas within that time. It will be as hightoned as Peachtree at one-third of the price. It will be just outside of the city, yet possessing all of its advantages. Consult your home, social and business interests, and then do like Mohamet-go to the Mountain (J. GUESTS OF THE CITY.

DISTINGUISHED OFFICERS WILL ARRIVE TODAY.

Everything in Readiness Except the Accommodations of Those Specially Invited to Be Present.

Some of the distinguished confederate offi-cers who have been invited to take part in the Memorial Day celebration will arrive in Atlanta tonight.

A few of these men who led the confederate forces through unheard-of hardships have friends in Atlanta, and have had arrangements made for their entertainment. The great majority, however, are among strangers, who only know them by name, and it remains with the private citizens of Atlanta to enter-

A committee on entertainment was appointed when the arrangements for Memorial Day were first begun. Mr. W. A. All the plans for the parade and for the care of the private soldiers who fought for the con-federacy are complete. And Atlanta will see the greatest crowd next Saturday that has ever gathered within her limits.

New organizations are every day applying for positions in the parade. The Sons of Veterans held another enthusiastic meeting last night, and probably from seventy-five to one hundred young men, whose fathers were soldiers twenty-five years ago, will be in line next Saturday.

Colonel Milledge yesterday received the following notice, which was referred to Judge

Calhoun:

ATLANTA, Ga., April 19, 1899.—Colonel John Milledge, Chairman Committee Memorial Exercises—Dear Sir: At a meeting of Adolph Brandt division No. 5, held on Tuesday night, I was instructed to inform you that the division would accept your invitation to take part in the parade on the 26th instant. Yours truly, superintendent of the fourth division, is similar to those issued in the other divisions. It reads like an exciting page of one of Mr. Wanamaker's own advertising books.

It is the earnest desire of the honorable general superintendent of this office that all clerks supply themselves with a working suit to be worn on duty in addition to cap and badge, consisting of overalls and jacket, a sample of which can be seen at the following points: Office chief clerk, Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S. C.; Jacksonville, Fla.; New Orleans, La.; transfer clerk, Birmingham, Ala.; Jackson, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss.; Macon, Ga.; Columbia, S. C., and Albany, Ga.

The overalls are made of the best nine-ounce Manchester Camlets, and the jackets of the best quality of linen that will not admit dust, and can be readily washed. These suits can be ordered from Brown Bros. & Co., No. 110 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., or through this office.

Cost of suit: Overalls and jacket, $1.75; overalls and two jackets, $2.40. These are warranted not to rip, and are gotten up in the best style for neat ness, combined with convenience, durability and comfort. Clerks sending orders will be careful to give the following me-surements: Size around elest under armpits; size around waist; length of pants—"inside seam." It is advisable that clerks order two jackets so that one can be worn while the other is being washed. All orders must be accompanied with the cash.

It is earnestly desired that every clerk order these working suits at once, so that the force throughout the division may be provided with a working suit inside of thirty days, and chief clerks will report the names of clerks who have not provided themselves with them.

Mr. Wanamaker has a large stock of overalls in his Philadelphia store.

This young lady, who aspires to the highest classic ran, has taken the extraordinary method of appearing first at popular prices, so as to make a sure success. The Birmingham Age-Herald of last Monday thus noticed the performance of "Ingomar:"

"The large audience which assembled last night at O'Brien's to see Adele Frost in "Ingomar," enjoyed a treat which, probably few expected. It is seldom that such a company as Miss Frost has is seen anywhere playing at popular prices, and the theater-geors of the city can attend the performance to be given during the remainder of the engagement, and rest assured they will be pleased.

the engagement, and rest assured they will be pleased.

Miss Frost has never been in the south before, and, in fact, this is her first season as a star. From the beginning, however, she has done well, and her success everywhere she has appeared has really been wonderful. She is a handsome woman, and a finished actress. Her Parthenia last night was a superb bit of acting and the audience was delighted with her.

Edmund Collier, who took the part of "Ingomar," is an actor of reputation and ability. He was in Birmingham last year with Frank Mayo, and for years he has been a well known leading man with the strongest attractions in the country. Miss Mabel Leonard, of the company, is also well known throughout the country. She was with Modjeska and afterwards with Clara Morris, and has made a very enviable reputation.

THESE LOTS ARE JUST SOUTH OF ORmond street, and is absolutely the finest and most desirable elevated and healthy portion of Atlanta. The magnificent state capitol, the pride of Georgia, fronts upon this street. Several of the first churches in the city, where thousands of our best clitzens worship, are on this street.
Bankers, capitalists. merchant princes live upon Washington street. Tis the home of our distinguished United States senator. Some of the most elegant and costly mansions ever built in the south are upon Washington street. Here is a beautifully graded and paved street, with curb stones and brick sidewalks all laid and ready for use; with street cars running through every 7½ minutes.

A large amount of money has been spent in making Washington Heights the grandest spot in Atlanta. Masy have waited patiently for an opportunity to buy one of these lots. The time is here. Now is your chance. This property has no superior in the city. Washington street has long been conceded to be one of the most fashionable and delightful drives in the city. You will be handsoanely repaid any pleasant afternoon to drive upon Washington and see the many elegant and stylish carriages filled with the beauty and elite of the south dashing along to the heights for a pleasant ride and to look upon our immense city in every direction. Now is your time to buy upon this grand thoroughfare. Kever again will they be so cheap. None are excluded. Our terms are exceedingly liberal—¼ cash, balance in 6, 12 and 18 months. Should you wish to pay all eash and yet wish to build and need funds, we will advance the money for the same at 6 per cent.

Timothy et al. vs. Chambers et al. Complaint for Land. Homestead. Set off. Mesne Profits. Title. Estoppel. Actions. Presumptions. Practice. Evidence. Jurisdiction. Before Judge Jenkins. Madison Superior Court.

Bleckler, C. J.—1. Where husband and wife sold and conveyed homestead land secured under the constitution of 1868, with no leave so to do, that the beneficiaries of the homestead used and enjoyed the proceeds of the sale will not bar a recovery of the land, but money thus used and enjoyed may be set off against mesne profits for which the purchaser is liable.

but money thus used and enjoyed has to see off against mesne profits for which the purchaser is liable.

2. The wife's deed, with or without warranty, if it has no effect as a conveyance of title, will not estop her as to her interest in the homestead premises in an action to recover the land on the homestead right. Though she may be bound to respond to her warranty, her own property, not the homestead itself, must be looked to for satisfaction.

3. Liberal presumptions are indulged in favor of the regularity of homestead proceedings. A proper order to the surveyor will be presumed where the ordinary had approved the plat returned to him; and approval of the "homestead" means substantially approval of the plat and the schedule conformably to $2,009 of the code.

4. The surveyor's affidavit that the plat "is 22,009 of the code.

4. The surveyor's affidavit that the plat "is a correct plat" means in substance, that the land is correctly platted and laid off, and is a sufficient affidavit under $2008 of the code.

5 The law does not require the plat to be recorded in the county in which the land lies, but only in the county in which the jurisdiction to secure the homestead is exercised. Code,

There being no evidence tending to show that the maker of a deed of conveyance was induced to sign it under the impression that it did not affect her title, or that any misrepresentations were made to her, or that she was overreached, misled or deceived, a charge of the court based on this hypothesis was erroneous. male witnesses to come into court and testify, or to continue the case that their interrogaor to continue the case that their interroga-tories might be taken, was not error where it was not properly shown what the witnesses would testify, or that their testimony was material. But if, upon good reasons shown why it is necessary for such witnesses to attend why it is necessary for such witnesses to attend in person, what they will testify, and the materiality of such testimony, the court is satisfied that fit is necessary, in furtherance of justice, for them to attend, an order should be issued requiring them to do so. 6. During the argument to the jury, the defendant's counsel made improper remarks relative to what had transpired before the court fendant's counsel made improper remarks relative to what had transpired before the court on an application to compel the attendance of a female witness which was denied, stating that he was unable to say what effect the testitimony of this witness would have had, but desired to call the jury's attention to the fact that the defendant and its counsel had done everything in their power to have the witness brought into court, as they deemed her presence of great importance. In conclusion, plaintiff's counsel stated to the jury that they also were anxious to have had the testimony of this witness, she being one of the most important witnesses they had; and made further statements to the effect that she was kept away by having been tampered with by defendant's superintendent. Upon objection on part of the defendant, which was sustained by the court, the statements as to tampering with the witness were withdrawn by counsel, who continuing said to the jury that at all events he believed before high heaven that, if the superintendent had not paid his visit to the witness, she would have come to court and testified, and that she was the most important witness plaintiffs had and they were very anxious to have her presence. Held:

The remarks of plaintiffs' counsel tended to prejudice the minds of the jury against the detendant, and they require the grant of a new trial. Had counsel confined himself to a strict reply to the remarks of opposing counsel, and insisted only that he too desired the presence of the witness, a new trial would not have been demanded. I Thompson. Tr. §5903-5; 10 Ga. 511; 522; 61 Ga. 278; 11 Ga. 615.

8. Though where special damages, such as expenses of nursing, physician's bill, medicine, etc., are sought, the rule of assessment according to the enlightened consciences of impartial jurors is not applicable, it is where the special damages alleged are not insisted upon, and the only recovery sought is for injuries to the person and for pain and suffering.

9. It would be better to omit any instruction to the jury touching sorrow, resulting from a miscarriage as an element of damage; pain and suffering being sufficiently comprehensive. 5 Am. and Eng Ency. L. 42; 53 Vt. 190.

Simmons, J.—1. Upon a petition by an administratrix against the children of her husband for an account and settlement of claims which she alleged his estate owed her individually and as guardian, and upon the answers thereto, a legal judgment and decree could be entered and the estate in her hands as administratrix be administered thereunder; and the children, through their guardians ad litem, were proper parties defendant. 131 U. 2. A husband who takes possession of his wife's separate estate and manages it for her becomes her general agent, and as such is accountable to her for the income, profits or interest which he makes by its use; and if he die before making a settlement with her, she is entitled to recover from his estate by proving that he had possession of the property, what it was worth for rent, and what the interest and income would be in case it was money; especially where the agent kept no books and made no report to his principal. In such a case testimony on the hearing before an auditor, by tenants who rented the wife's land from the husband and agreed to pay certain cotton therefor, showing what the same was worth, and of others showing how much money they paid for rent, and other testimony showing what certain of the lands were worth for rent, was admissible. WEST END NOTES.

The pipes for the gas mains in West End have arrived, and the work of laying them will be commenced in a few days. The gas company will put a large force at work on this enterprise and push it through as rapidly as a large force can lay the pipes. West End is fortunate in thas securing gas throughout all her borders without involving the town for a debt. This is a privilege that is enjoyed by only a limited portion of the residents of Atlanta herself. The citizens of West End should therefore encourage the gas company as far as practicable by taking the gas into their residences, and using it as long as the company furnishes good gas at satisfactory prices. The company will run pipes a distance of thirty feet into your premises without cost.

The extension of Gordon street west beyond the town limits has been evenly graded and the street made sixty feet wide, and broad sidewalks prepared. This improvement affords a nandsome, broad avenue for an approach to West End, both from the Sandtown and Green's ferry roads.

Residents on Gordon street beyond the present terminus of the Whitehall street car line are negotiating to have the car line extended a half mile farther, probably to the junction of the Sandtown and Green's ferry roads. This extension would put the cars in easy reach of quite a number of persons who reside in that section, and would help to build up a pretty section of West End.

Two important improvements are much needed in West End to give this suburb quick and easy connection with south Atlanta and Grant park, and these are to extend Gordon street east to Glenn street, and to extend Baugh street east to and these are to extend Gordon street east to Glenn street, and to extend Baugh street east to Georgia avenue. Such connection would give a pleasant, direct and easy drive from Westview cemetery to Grant park, whereas, at present, these two important terminal points are now accessible only by circuitous routes and uneven streets. Let the property owners, through whose property the extensions would be made, get together and complete these important thoroughfares.

Now, before property becomes too valuable.

fares.

Now, before property becomes too valuable, West End should buy a suitable ground for a park, or two of them, one in the north and one in the south of the town. The rapid increase of value in property will soon place such property beyond her reach. Will not some of our wealthiest citizens donate a ground for that purpose, and make West End and themselves both happy?

End and themselves both happy?

The town is constructing a substantial rock culvert across Lawton street, between Oak and Gordon. This street, heretofore, has been impassable, but will soon be in nice shape.

A year or two ago property in West End was valued ordinarily at so much an acre, but now the rule is so much per front foot, and the prices range from $10 on the unimproved streets to $50 on the leading thoroughfares. As property increases in value the beauty and style of the architecture improves. Some of the most beautiful homes in Georgia—stately houses with ample grounds, broad lawns and ornamental trees—are to be found in this pleasant suburb. Now is the time to obtain homes with ample grounds—garden, lot, stables, orchard and all—at reasonable prices.

Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla.

Our druggists tell us that they are selling a great deal of Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. It has not been advertised much in this vicinity, and we take it that the large demand for it is attributed merely to its extraordinary merit as a blood purifier and strengthening alterative. We know of several instances where it has put sick men and women on their feet after physicians had exhausted their skill. It is a medicine that certainly goes right to the spot, the very first dose seeming to do good. The blood is the life and we believe there is no other medicine made so nowerful as a blood of the medicine made so nowerful as a blood that the second content medicine made so nowerful as a blood that the second content medicine made so nowerful as a blood to the medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood to the medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood to the medicine made so nowerful as a blood as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood as a blood so the life and we believe there is no other medicine made so nowerful as a blood as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine medicine made so nowerful as a blood content medicine medi blood is the life and we believe there is no other medicine made so powerful as a blood purifier as this remedy. Central debenture.

Central debenture 99 Augusta and Savannah 140 Atlanta and West Point 110 Atlanta and West Point debenture 101 THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The stock market was NEW YORK, April 23.—The stock market was not so broad today nor so active, especially in the unlisted department, while a more feverish tone marked dealings during the early portion of the day. The bears attempted to carry yesterday's afternoon's decline further, and some slight depression was brought about in the first few minites of business, but resistance to the downward movement was so strong that the pressure was boon removed and the market after material rally became dull, though the same steady and slow became dull, though the same steady and slow hardening of values continued until the close The sudden change from early depression to the strength of the remainder of the day was in a great degree owing to a quiet advance in coalers, and Delaware and Hudson rose three per cent on the execution of small orders to buyers, showing the small amount of stock offering. Lackawanna was a feature of the day, though its activity was less than during the day, though its activity was less than during the previous rises. The rest of the list was quiet to dull all the way out, and comparative quiet in the unlisted department, with small fluctuations, rendered dealings almost barren of feature. Sugar was traded in over a range of only 1 per cent. An impression that the stock has reached the top for awhile gained ground, and small fluctuations, with a quiet business, are to be expected in the stock for some days. Among the specialties Hocking coal, Flint and Piere Marquette and Denver, Texas and Fort Worth were prominent for strength, but only in the last named was any material progress made. The usual realizations in the last hour gave a sagging tendency to prices, but the close was quiet and steady at or near the best prices of the day. The final changes show a majority of gains, but the only changes of importance are advances of 1½ in Lackawanna and 1 per cent in Denver, Texas and Fort Worth. Trading today was 164,787 shares listed, 29,771 shares unlisted, Lackawanna contributing 43,950 shares, Sugar 22,024 shares, and St. Paul 11,500 shares.

NEW YORK, April 23—[Special.]—Greatly to the surprise of the entire trade the foreign markets not only failed to decline, but came with an advance in prices and an improved demand for cotton on the spot, which was maintained to the close. The reason for this sudden change in the tone of the foreign markets was found in the quick recovery in the price of silver from yesterday's quota-tion of 45% to 46d today; and, although the ad-vance in Liverpool is of a more speculative char-acter than that of last week, the situation is so strong that the offerings of cotton are quickly ab-sorbed. Exporters are access business.

sorbed. Exporters are again buying quietly from our stock, and if the American spinners require any great quantity of cotton they will be obliged to compete with the exporters for the small amount remaining, upseld. to compete with the exporters for the small amount remaining unsold. A certain quantity of our stock is sold for August delivery, and will be held off the market until then for delivery. The movement of the crop continues upon a very light scale, and unless cotton is held in the uncounted towns the out-turn of the crop will prove very disappointing. Many of the large cotton plantations in the Missussippi valley are still under water, and the break of the levees will cause serious delay in planting, if nothing else. Were it not for threatened legislation the new crop deliveries would be ruling upon a higher level. New Orleans receipts somorrow are estimated at 800 bales.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 23—Wheat—Trading was active oday, but the feeling was somewhat unsettled. today, but the feeling was somewhat unsettled. The market was irregular and fluctuations were quite frequent within a comparatively moderate range of prices. All sorts of influences were brought to bear upon the market. The opening was weak and \(\frac{1}{2}\frac{1}{2}\colong \) lower than yesterday's close, but good buying turned the market, and prices advanced \(\frac{1}{2}\frac{1}{2}\colong \) to lower for May, \(\frac{1}{2}\colong \) finally closing \(\frac{1}{2}\colong \) to lower for May, \(\frac{1}{2}\colong \) for June and \(\frac{1}{2}\colong \) weakness was attributed to rather free offerings, and influenced some by reported rains pretings, and influenced some by reported rains pret-ty much all over Minnesota and Dakota. The ad-vance which followed the early break was attrib-uted partly to active buying, a prominent local trader purchasing freely.

Corn—There was a light business, most of the trade being local, and fluctuations were limited to a %c range. The undertone was rather easier, though no decline of consequence was recorded. The market opened a shade lower than the closing prices of yesterday, was easy for a time, then advanced 1/2c, reacted 1/2c, ruled steady, closing 1/2@

We lower than yesterday.
Oats were active and stronger, and prices ranged higher, but outside prices were not maintained until the close. The most interest was May and June. Offerings were not large, and the demand was brisk, especially from shorts, and prices advanced ¼ @%c, June selling ½c over July. The appreciation brought out a liberal increase of oferings, and prices yielded a little.

Mess pork—A very nervous feeling prevailed. The opening sales were made at 10@15c decline, but prices quickly rallied 30@35c with rather light trading. Toward the close the feeling was rather easy, andiprices receded 10@12%c, but the market developed considerable strength at the extreme and prices ruled higher.

Lard—Trading was fairly active, but prices ruled irregular and averaged lower, receding 5 @7½c. At this reduction the inquiry was a little more active, and prices rallied again 5@7½c, but finally settled back again to inside figures and closed

Short rib sides-Considerable interest was manifested, but the feeling was unsettled. Offerings were free early, while the demand was fair, and prices declined 7½@10c. At the reduction there was some inquiry from local shorts, and prices were advanced 5a7½c, but the market developed a weak feeling, closing easy at inside figures.

(IEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE SUIT perior Court of said County—The petition of George B. Rowbothain, Frank W. Carter, J. F.
Dickinson, of Suffolk county, Massachusetts, shows that they, their associates, successors and assigns desire to be incorporated and made a body corporate and politic under the corporate name of
"SOUTHERN BELTING COMPANY" for the period of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of said time, and with all the powers, rights, privileges conferred by section 1679 of the code of Georgia of 1882, and all others that are incident to corporations of same character, as well as the privilege specifically prayed for.

The object of said corporation and its particular business will be the manufacturing of leather, leather belting, lace leather and general mill supplies. They also propose to buy and soll and deaf in rubber belting and hose, packing and rubber goods of all description.

The capital stock of said corporation will be $25,000, divided into shares of $100 each. They desire the privilege of increasing said capital stock from time to time, by a vote of its stockholders, to any amount not exceeding $100,000, as may appear to be to the best interest of said corporation.
